Who should and why attend a Silent Directed Retreat

All are welcome to come for this retreat experience, regardless of faith or religious background. This retreat is designed for those who:

- Want to deepen their relationship with God.
- Want to learn more about themselves in relationship with God and with others.
- Are facing or experiencing a shift in life and are wondering what the next steps might be.
- Simply need to get away and find some peace.

What to Expect on a Silent Directed Retreat

There are not many rules that govern this kind of retreat, other than discovering God's Love and trying to figure out how to respond!

About This Retreat

What is a Silent Directed Retreat?

Silent Directed Retreats are based on the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola, which encompasses the experiences of the persons where they are and where God is found in the midst of every day life. This retreat will be offered in this spirit and tradition and will include the following:

- Silence - Silence gives us the opportunity to tune out the noise and distractions of our regular routines in order to more intentionally focus on our relationship with God. Your time, including meals will be in silence and all will refrain from talking except for during Mass and when meeting with your Spiritual Director.
- Prayer - you will be invited to spend time in prayer to acknowledge God's presence and ask for God's Grace (help) as you spend time with Scripture passages as a means to hear what and how God is speaking to you.
- Spiritual Direction - You will be given a Spiritual Director with whom you will meet each day of the retreat for approximately 30-45 minutes. Spiritual Direction is not about counseling or offering advice, but rather listening to where you are with God and how God is speaking to you in your life and during this retreat. Your Spiritual Director is someone who is committed to prayer and Scripture, and is trained and experienced in Silent Directed Retreats.
