

“Project Civility” founder to address Catholic Business Exchange.

Jeff Worrell, founder and CEO of the Carmel Civility Foundation, will address the December Catholic Business Exchange. His topic will be Project Civility: Making the World a Better Place, One Community at a Time.

Jeff is a visionary behind Project Civility, a national movement rooted in the belief that respect and empathy are not just ideals, but actionable tools for rebuilding trust and unity in our communities. He launched Project Civility to address the growing divide in public discourse and to champion civility as a transformative force for change.

Under Jeff's guidance, it has grown from a local initiative into a national platform, culminating in the inaugural Project Civility National Summit in Carmel. His work is grounded in the belief that every conversation—whether at work, at home, in the community, or online—is an opportunity to model respect, listen deeply, and lead with integrity. A longtime Carmel City Councilor and community advocate, Jeff brings decades of experience in public service, strategic engagement, and grassroots organizing. He works to inspire local and national partners to embrace civility not as a weakness, but as a strength. One that fosters authentic dialogue, bridges divides, and empowers communities to move forward together.

The event is Friday, December 19, at the Northside Events and Social Club. Mass is offered at 7am and the program will be finished by 9am. Cost for the program includes a great breakfast and is $20 in advance for members and $25 for non-members. Registration is required by 4pm, Tuesday December 16. To register, pay online and for more information, visit www.catholicbusinessexchange.org.
