Fourth Grade News

(Mrs. Kaminski and Miss Bridges)

DATES TO REMEMBER:

- Field day — May 15
- Last day of school — May 22

WE ARE LEARNING:

RELIGION: This week in religion we spent time learning about Mary as May is the month of Our Lady. We learned about Mary Gardens and the reasons behind flowers being a common symbol associated with Mary. Each student made a Marian shrine using what we learned about Mary this week.

MATH: This week we will be reviewing math skills in a variety of fun ways. (One Hundreds Board Activity, Murder Mystery Activity to Solve, Blooket Game and an Escape Room to get out of)

READING: Next week we will be reading Ch.11-17 in our novel and will be finishing our book on Thursday.

Spelling : Unit 30 (Abbreviations) Activities and test will be due next Thursday.

ELA: Next week we will continue to work on our Weird Phenomenon Slides. The students will begin to present them on Tuesday to the class. I have seen some really great projects so far!

SCIENCE: Next week in science, students will be working on their endangered animal research projects. Each student has already begun researching their chosen animal, learning about its habitat, threats, and other important facts. Over the next few weeks, we will continue gathering information and organizing our research. Our final goal is to bring everything together into a beautiful, informative poster to showcase their learning! Ask your child about their animal, they are very excited!

Important Message:

Miss Bridges and myself are receiving quite a bit of late work in all subject areas. We have talked to our students several times about the importance of turning in homework on time. We are past the point in the year of constant reminders, especially when all students record their assignments down in their agendas. If your child is absent, then they get one extra day to complete their work. All other late work will be given half credit only.
