

Rev. Dr. Tom Malone is a retired minister-Christian educator who lives now in Fountain Inn, South Carolina. Tom recently celebrated his 50th anniversary of being a Presbyterian minister. Tom served several local churches as Minister of Education, served two presbyteries as Educator-Camp Director, served as a developer of curriculum for children in our Louisville office, and ended his ministry serving as pastor of small-membership churches. In retirement, Tom served two churches as Parish Associate for Christian Education and one church as Stated Supply Pastor. Tom retired in August of this year for the 4th and FINAL time. He hopes to spend his time now writing, supplying pulpits, and leading retreats in the area of Spirituality.
