ECAS Chantell Jones

Emergency Communications Assistant Supervisor Chantell Jones is being nominated for her leadership and dedication to the Department.

During the past quarter, ECAS Jones has demonstrated the qualities of an effective leader and supervisor. When asked again to serve as Acting Emergency Communications Supervisor, she immediately accepted the opportunity. In addition to continuing to manage her own platoon, she watched over both B and D Platoons for four weeks. During this time, she handled each task assigned to her well and with a great attitude. She exhibits a strong desire to grow as a leader and develop her skills beyond what is required in her current position. To that end, she seeks out opportunities to learn and hone her leadership abilities.

ECAS Jones is one that can always be counted on and is always willing to learn something new, take on a new assignment or project, or assist with whatever the Department may need. This quarter was no exception as ECAS Jones was selected to work on our Department's implementation of the Marcus Alert system. This work involved numerous meetings during her time off and required a significant amount of dedication and sacrifice. She readily accepted this assignment, knowing the importance of improving how our Department responds to those experiencing a mental health crisis. Additionally, ECAS Jones submitted her application to be considered for reassignment to the Quality Assurance Supervisor position in an effort to learn a new role and continue to grow as a leader in the Department.

ECAS Jones continues to be a role model of what a supervisor in the Department should be and is very deserving of this nomination.
