ACOS Hunt has directly been involved with many significant events since being promoted to her new position and has handled each situation with excellence.

During the relocation to Henrico Communications ACOS Hunt managed to serve as the lead supervisor to the four radio operators while also providing periodic breaks as needed. On May 27, 2018, while phone issues continued to develop, ACOS Hunt ensured that CAD Support was notified of any changes with system failures and/or improvements. On June 22, 2018, early morning thunderstorm caused flash flooding and high water. The significant amount of rain caused flooding on McDonough Street and trailer park with evacuations involved. ACOS Hunt after arriving for duty at 0600 hours was of great assistance with quickly gathering stats and events created due to storm in efforts of submitting a Situation (SIT) report for notifications.

ACOS Hunt continues to strive for excellence in her position. She has gained a great deal of trust from her staff and has worked very hard during her short tenure in her current position.
