

LUTHERAN DISASTER RESPONSE

Our Advent Offering Recipient

Lutheran Disaster Response in the Southeastern Synod is one of the most active groups in the United States. Our area of the country is prone to so many natural disasters, and this year has been unprecedented in many ways. Not only have the number of tornadic events and hurricanes this year been larger than in the past, the addition of the FEMA declared disaster of COVID-19 has impacted things in ways we could never have anticipated.

Funding for the response and recovery for survivors is largely dependent on individual and congregational support, along with some grant money from the ELCA LDR. Your financial support of the disaster ministry functions of the Southeastern Synod will have a real impact on our 4-state community. Dollars donated are used for emergency response, care of survivor needs, rebuilding and/or repair of damaged homes, and to support the cost of volunteers who donate their time and skills. Please also consider including the work of the Disaster Ministry committee and the needs of those impacted by disasters in your prayers.
