

Delmarva Alliance of Adaptation Practitioners (DAAP)

Annual Forum

June 12, 2023

Worcester Room at the Commons of Salisbury University
1313 Camden Ave, Salisbury, MD 21801

The Delmarva Alliance of Adaptation Practitioners (DAAP) provides opportunities for adaptation practitioners working with small and rural communities in Delmarva to share existing approaches, build off current knowledge and expertise, discuss common challenges, explore potential solutions, and identify cooperative actions that will enhance individual efforts.

Registration required by June 2, 2023 at bit.ly/DAAP2023. Please feel free to share with interested colleagues.

Forum Objectives:

- Share information about adaptation efforts in Delmarva
- Explore the intersections between climate adaptation and public health
- Provide an opportunity to match participant expertise with needs and leverage expertise at Salisbury University
- Identify funding sources and collaborators for adaptation projects
- Build partnerships across DAAP

Request for speakers: Do you have a new project that would benefit from additional perspectives or expertise? Or an idea you need help getting off the ground? We seek presenters to give lightning talks (5 minutes or less) that invite new collaborators. You will introduce a new idea or existing project that you would like to work on with members from the DAAP community. After presentations, participants will have the opportunity to discuss ideas with you in breakout groups. If you would like to present, please indicate so on your registration or contact Jessica.McIntosh@NOAA.gov.
