Community Meal & Tamale Making—February 18 & 19

St. Mark High School Boys Basketball League Championship February 25: St. Paul Clappers vs. St. Raymond Slimeballs Winner: St. Paul Clappers

Mardi Gras Potluck & Palm Burning—February 25

"Where can we meet God?" This profound question came from one of our middle schoolers during Peace Camp. Deacon David hosted a group of 60 middle schoolers and high schoolers for two days of interfaith sharing. I got to meet with them to introduce them to the sanctuary and answer questions. There were so many good questions, but this was my favorite. Where indeed do we meet God?

This Lenten season we are focusing our attention on transformation, on how people's lives are transformed when they meet God. How has your life been transformed? How have the people we will meet in our gospel stories each Sunday been transformed? But where also have you and they met God to be transformed? Some of the people we will hear from in the Bible meet God in the wilderness, others in the dark of night, others in broad daylight at a well, some meet God on the road, others when death touches their life. And then there are your stories of transformation. Where have you met God? In the dark night of a difficult time? In the bright light of revelation dawning on you? In the still quiet moments? In the times when there was so much chaos you didn't even know which way was up? In the death of a loved one? In your own or a loved one's illness? And how did that meeting transform your life?

The thing that fascinates me is that God can be met in everyday life, in everyday things, in all people and places. One of my favorite places to meet God is in the bread and wine, body and blood of the communion meal we share each Sunday. We meet God in that meal. But could we meet God in other meals? Could we learn more and more who God is over a meal and be transformed by it?

This will be the question we will experiment with in our Lenten Worships this year. Each Wednesday you are invited to Lunch Church at 11am or Dinner Church at 6pm. We will gather around tables in the Fellowship Hall. We will start with song and prayer to Gather, then move to Word and Meal, with a bible reading and guiding questions, concluding with a song, blessing and Sending. Can you meet God and explore who God is in your life and in the life of your neighbor over a simple meal of soup and bread? Can God be met at the lunch or dinner table? This will be our experiment.

We also encourage you to take that experiment into your own lives. Resources will be provided each Sunday for you to take our meal church with you on the road- to your Nibbler's events, to your Sunday morning brunch table, to Senior Lunch, to your Coffee Hour table, to your women's ministry table, to your regular old kitchen table. Can God be met even there? Can we talk about our faith, about how we have been transformed, and in the talking be transformed again even in ordinary places over ordinary meals?

We think yes. We are excited to experiment in this way with you this Lent, to hear and share stories of transformation, and to experience them together as we meet God at the table.

This Lent, may we meet God and be transformed.

In Peace,
Pr. Christie

Thoughts from the Loft

One of my favorite Lenten hymns is “Christ, the Life of All the Living” (ELW #339). A text that is repeated in this hymn is “Thousand, thousand, thanks are due, dearest Jesus, unto you.”

During this season, we often think our music should be of a sad, gloomy nature. However, it can be an expression of thanksgiving and praise as well. Christ’s selfless offering on the cross gives us so much to be thankful for, in word and song. We can join in wonder with the hymn writer, “for that last triumphant cry, praise you evermore on high.”

Peace,
Tim

A Transformation Story

By: Deacon David Webb

After college there wasn't a whole lot going on in my life. My application had been rejected at one grad school and I was struggling to finish the application to another. I was substitute teaching and working construction. I was living with my parents who were in the midst of some hardships. I didn't know what I was going to do with my life. Then one day I was kind of dozing off while I was listening to a sermon. The person preaching was telling the story of Jesus feeding the 5,000. The preacher comes to the part of the story where Jesus says: "you give them something to eat!" and the disciples look at each other and shrug and say: all we have are these small things, these little bits... 5 loaves of bread and two fish. The person preaching stops and says to us: "You know how this story ends, but what about you and your story... what are the small things, the little bits that you are afraid to give to God that God will bless and use to feed the whole world?" Then the person preaching just sat down and I was left just sitting there with this question: "What are you going to give to God to feed the world?" I had no idea how to respond, but God had my attention. I had no idea what I was going to do, but I stopped thinking I had nothing to offer apart from substitute teaching and living with my parents.

My life wasn't transformed overnight, but that was the leaven that accelerated my life of faith into attending seminary; into mentoring, teaching, feeding, and nurturing children (of all ages); into serving at a congregation whose mission is to: "nourish God's people..."

I wonder if you have thought of any transformation stories in the last month? Call or email me or Pastor Christie if you are interested in sharing it. We'd love to hear it.

Shine, Leadership Development, Basketball, and King's Players (Ministry with students between 13-18)

Leadership development projects have slowed down a bit with students getting jobs in the community. Students who have participated have had very good initial success in the work force and in applying to colleges.

Students began planning this coming summer trips.

New communication strategies are being developed to connect high school students with the congregation and high school students and parents with Youth Ministry at St. Mark.

New partnerships and collaborations are being explored with the Lutheran Roundtable Ministry for the coming year.

Stewardship Notes

Our Lenten theme of the Christian life as one transformation ties in nicely to our ongoing emphasis on recognizing God's presence and activity in our daily (Mon – Sat) lives. We have heard during the Epiphany season that God is light, that God helps us see things that we miss unless we have the eyes of faith. Martin Luther encouraged us to think of our daily routines and responsibilities as our vocation. All vocations (roles) were equally valuable in God's eyes. The custom had been to elevate the roles of clergy, monks, nuns as "religious" compared to the lesser roles that were secular. Luther said all vocations (parenting, teaching, building, barbering, etc.) were highly valued in God's eyes because that's how we serve our neighbor.

It's common to think of God as being real or present when we've had a close call with disaster, or when something totally out of the ordinary happens. And that may be so at times. But more importantly it is when we sense God's presence in our parenting and grandparenting, our employment, our interaction with friends and neighbors, our shopping, our recreation, our driving and commuting—all the things that take up our time. That is when our lives become transformed into partnership with God.

We've heard frequently that all discipleship is stewardship. We can also consider discipleship as transformation, the changing of our eyes, ears, hearts, and minds to be partners and coworkers with God in finding freedom from the bondage of "sin." Sin is everything that draws our attention away from stewardship, the recognition that God is the creator of all things good.

A new blue pew card is being prepared to be a reminder of this wider concept of stewardship. It will be a card you can take home as a reminder of how you serve God and neighbor in your vocation. You can share it in the offering, or use it as a reminder to reflect on God's gracious activity in your life. Enjoy your stewardship journey of transformation!

The St. Mark Foundation was established to provide for religious, charitable, benevolent, and educational special needs to the glory of God and to bring people to eternal life through Christ. The Foundation is made up of the congregation of St. Mark -- the entire congregation. We are the Foundation.

Each year, the St. Mark Foundation distributes funds from earned interest of its assets to St. Mark Benevolence and award grants to non-profit organizations expressing financial need in terms of their ministry missions. The objective is to support parallel ministries which mesh with the mission of the St. Mark Foundation and forge potential partnerships. This year, there were eighteen (18) grantees both from the local area as well as nationally.

The selection process is competitive and detailed application forms are completed by prospective grantees and submitted to the St. Mark Foundation members. Based on the available budget for the fiscal year and common mission as St. Mark, grantees are selected and informed of their grants. To learn more about the organizations and their primary missions, the grantees are invited to present briefly in the form of a 5-minute Temple Talk to the St. Mark congregation during one of the Sunday services throughout the calendar year. Through that effort, organizations detail how their grant funding is allocated and how their mission benefits from the generosity of the St. Mark Foundation. St. Mark Foundation Grantees for 2020 include:
