

Czukers tapped to head Israel Bonds West region

L-r: Israel Maimon, Bonds president & CEO; Edward and Elissa Czuker, Western region campaign co-chairs; Stuart Garawitz, national vice president of sales.

Development Corporation for Israel-Israel Bonds has appointed Elissa and Edward Czuker as campaign co-chairs for Israel Bonds Western region.

The Czukers have served in leadership roles for years; both have a strong passion for Bonds' initiatives and goals.

"By bringing their backgrounds and skill sets to bear, Elissa and Edward will contribute to the continued dynamism and growth of Bonds' Western Region, which has focused in recent years on reaching new audiences to generate investment in Israel Bonds," said Erez Goldman, executive director for the Western region.

It is comprised of California, Arizona, Wyoming, Utah, Alaska, Hawaii, Nevada and Montana.

"I couldn't think of a better addition to our campaign leadership."

Goldman also thanked outgoing regional campaign chair Gina Raphael for dedication to Bonds' mission.

During her tenure, Raphael's efforts included initiatives among women and recognizing the contributions of women investors, holding events to bring together new investors from different backgrounds and launching new divisions to expand Bonds' reach.

The Czukers had extensive careers in finance and real estate throughout California, a large focus of the Western region's operations.

Both have served in business leadership positions throughout the state, including executive roles with private firms and state-appointed, public-sector board chairmanships.