Maui Hospitality Relief Fundraising Kit

About Chef Hui

Chef Hui began as a project of Pili Group in 2017 as a way to deepen connections between the culinary world and the community. COVID-19 amplified the need for Chef Hui to engage our statewide network to support underserved communities. Chef Hui currently operates as a nonprofit partnering with various organizations to educate and inspire a connection to food and the people who produce/prepare. Additionally, Chef Hui serves as a hub for organizing and supporting communities during crises. Chef Hui is now applying all the lessons learned from our work during the pandemic to support our communities in Maui.

As we learned from the pandemic, situations like this wildfire crisis in Maui are a marathon, not a sprint. Our efforts are intended to focus on long-term rehabilitation of Maui and – specifically for Chef Hui – showing up for our restaurant and hospitality community.

Process

Chef Hui is partnering with Maui Rapid Response, World Central Kitchen, the Maui County, Hawaii Community Foundation and various local chefs and community leaders to coordinate, cook, and distribute meals across Maui.

As we focus on immediate needs we are simultaneously working to raise funds for long term support of our hospitality workers, many of whom have lost their homes or place of employment.

Funds raised for Chef Hui Maui Hospitality Relief will go directly to support Maui restaurants, hospitality workers and their families who have been displaced due to the fires. Funds will be distributed directly to restaurants and their employees based on needs.

Mahalo for your interest in raising funds for the Chef Hui Maui Hospitality Relief fund. For more information contact us at chefhui@undermyumbrella.com. For more information on Chef Hui visit chefhui.com.
