

Press Release

After more than 55 years in the architecture profession and more than 46 years as President of Allers Associates Architects, Terry L. Allers, FAIA, retired on December 31, 2025. Allers' passion has been helping clients with their design needs, as well as mentoring architecture graduates entering the profession.

During its tenure, Allers Associates Architects, P.C. of Fort Dodge designed nearly 2000 building projects locally and statewide including schools, hospitals, churches, financial institutions, early childhood centers, commercial offices, and homes. Upon Allers' retirement, the firm has closed its doors.

Allers expresses his gratitude to all of his past clients and his team members over the years for their support and encouragement during the firm's almost 5 decades in business. He is also grateful for being blessed with meaningful relationships in the Fort Dodge community as well as with his fellow colleagues and friends in the architectural professional organizations AIA (American Institute of Architects), FAIA (AIA College of Fellows), and NCARB (National Council of Architectural Registration Boards).

During his retirement Allers and his wife, Joleen of 58 years, plan to travel and pursue his many hobbies. He will also be available to provide residential schematic design consultations @ 515-570-2825.
