For now, limit your entries to 4, let us know if you have more.

Pieces can be 3x3, 4x4, 5x5. They can be paintings or small 3D wall sculptures. Gallery takes 20%, price accordingly. Smaller sizes with easels and local scenes routinely sell for $35 to $45. The 5x5 market has been saturated by fundraisers with the going price of $35 so price your work wisely to sell.

3x3 and 4x4 sizes can be temporarily affixed to the easel (a couple dots of water-soluble glue work great) but include an adhesive tab hanger on the back, so customers who wish to hang it on their itty bitty walls will purchase your piece. When you calculate your price, consider that the easel is included for the customer to take home.

Use a tag with a string, firmly attached to the piece to identify it and show the price. Include your first and last name, your selling price (ex $00.) If you use inventory numbers to keep track, be sure they are longer numbers or start with a letter, so they will not be confused with the price.

5x5 pieces should be framed (or have finished edges with thicker stretcher bars). Add an adhesive hanging tab on the back, and affix the string tag (with your name and price) so that it can be hidden behind the piece. There will be a designated space for wall hung mini's when we can accommodate it. You may include an easel if you wish, to be included with the painting at purchase. Only pieces with easels can be included inside the towers. Use a flat sticky label with your name on the easel. Add a tag on the back of the painting that states "Easel provided."

The Mini's will be on the move, so providing a cushy wrapping is important. The preferred method is a bubble wrap pouch. You can either make it or buy it. Leave the top open so it can be easily inserted and removed.

The Mini's will also be shown outside during the Gallery closure April 15 thru 19th.
