Profits go to a law enforcement scholarship in the memory of Phillip "Brother" Molis. Phillip was 23 when he was shot 11 times on April 9 while working security at a Galveston hotel. His life long dream was to be a peace officer and he expected to start working with his many friends in the Galveston Police Department this Fall. Tragically, the gunmen probably mistook Phillip for a police officer when he caught them breaking into cars in the hotel parking lot. Phillip died of his injuries on April 15.
