About Bill

As one of the first 100 EOS Implementers taught by Gino Wickman himself to now a teacher and master, Bill Wagner makes what some call a complex system simple; it can be best described as elegant simplicity.

Bill has built and sold three businesses over his 25-year career and is also the author of "The Entrepreneur Next Door." In this work, more than 1700 successful entrepreneurs were interviewed and surveyed to look at the relationship between personality and success. Additionally, with more than 1,000 presentations, workshops, and seminars under his belt, Bill understands how to turn leadership teams into high-performance teams.

When it comes to understanding entrepreneurs and their challenges, he not only gets it but has a way of helping others gain or regain their own traction. He rocks the boat and tells the truth, helping clients become their own organizational therapist.
