CROSS-DOCKING

There are three primary methods used in cross-docking.

Continuous cross-docking This is the most direct application. In continuous cross-docking, products and materials are continuously moved through a central site, moving directly from inbound to outbound shipments.

Consolidation arrangements This is the process of merging several smaller products or freight loads into one larger load in the cross-docking facility. Some items that are held in storage at the site may be combined with inbound products to form full truckload shipments.

Deconsolidation This is the opposite of the consolidation method where one large load is broken down into several smaller ones for easier transport and generally is used in direct-to-consumer shipments.

TRANSLOADING

Fast We'll strip containers quickly and get them back to the terminal to avoid penalties.

Integrated UGI can arrange pick up of your container, unload it at our local warehouse, put it onto a scheduled truck, that will handle final delivery.

Close to Ports and Reduce Dray Costs The proximity of UGI'S warehouse to the Chicagoland yards means you can get products off the rail and into the market faster.

Eliminate Errors and Delays When you use UGI to handle your project through to the final mile, you remove many communication and coordination errors that result from working with multiple providers.

STORAGE

Our storage and warehousing service is the best option to consider if you are looking to free up some space for your core business activities. Let our warehouse be an extension of your warehouse!

FULFILLMENT

We offer you the ability to fulfill your orders and handle product distribution to your consumers as an extension of your business. We are well suited for e-commerce businesses, nationwide chains, and growing companies. We are the best option to consider if you do not wish to deal with the demands of packaging and transporting goods on your own.

PICK AND PACK

Let us do the heavy lifting, with B2B order fulfillment and EDI services built to get your products to where they need to be. Teaming up with UGI to reliably move product from our warehouses to your customers increases sales and loyalty. The execution of this step is crucial to your brand as we are the last to touch your product.

KITTING

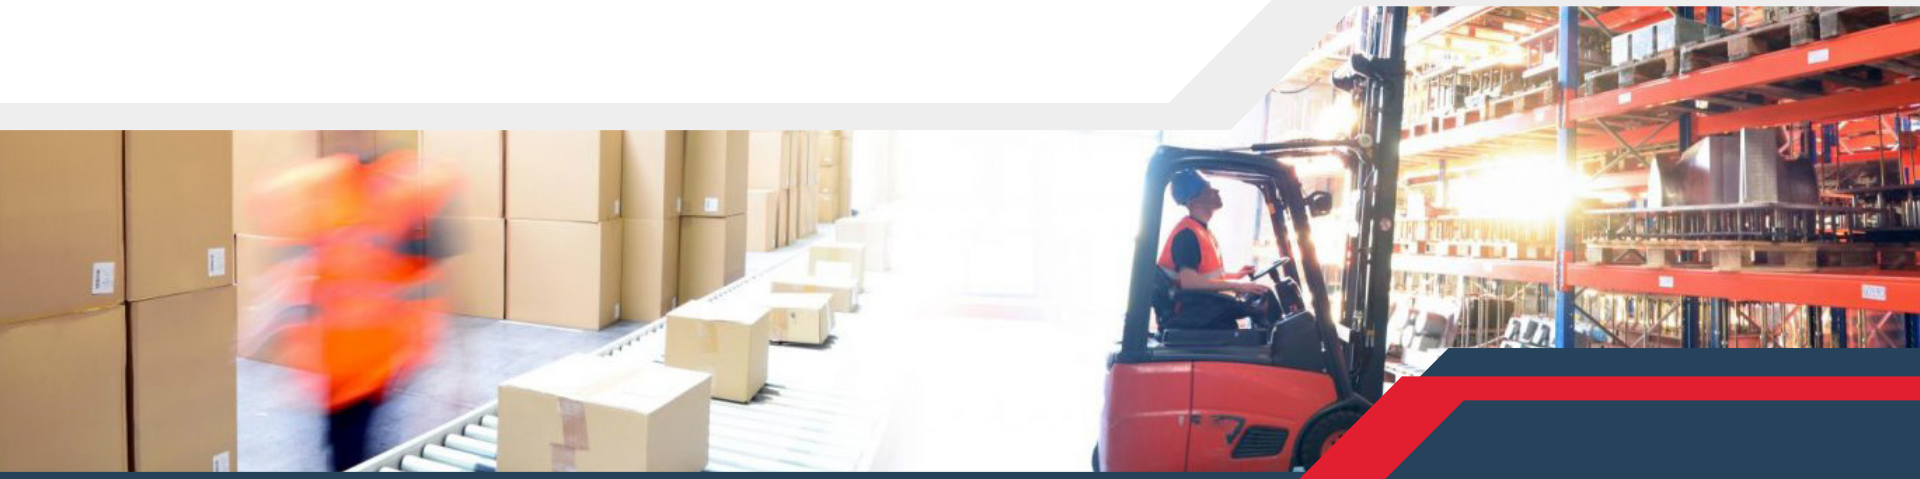

Kitting services are an essential step in order fulfillment that includes an assembly of separate items into a finished set or kit. Kitting is a widely used option for personalized services or retail fulfillment, which helps to ensure cost reductions in a specialized market requiring extreme attention to detail and personalization.

> “Our kitting services are perfect if you are looking for ways to improve shipping speed and reduce cost of order fulfillment.”
