A Letter to My Kid
Beloved,

Sunday mornings aren't the best time for us to talk about why we go to church and why I want you to have faith. We talk about schedules and mealtimes and cellphones, and we don't always find time to talk about things that matter to me – things that I want to matter to you too. So....here goes...

CHURCH – I wake you up to go to church on Sunday mornings when I know that you are tired. I am tired too. I wake you and risk a battle because I know that there will be times in your life when you will need to show up like when you have a job or when the baby is crying. Showing up is important.

PURPOSE – We all need purpose and a reason for being. Only you can know what your purpose will be. Doing justice, loving kindness, and walking humbly with God (Micah 6) is a good start. Be the best that you can be.

COMMUNITY – We go to church because I want you to have a community of people who you can trust. Going it alone in the world is difficult. I want you to have companions along the way.

DISFUNCTION – Yes, sometimes people of faith are crazy. Yes, sometimes churches are dysfunctional or even mean. Life is like that. This won't be the only time that you will have to deal with crazy or broken people. You will have a job. You will have family and in-laws. Learn to cope now.

SIZE MATTERS – There are things that are bigger than one person. Forgiveness. Generosity. Community. Faith. Collaboration. Compassion. Reconciliation. Keep your eyes on the big things and the little things will fall into place.

PRESENCE – I don't make you go to funerals so you can say something to the folks who are grieving. We go because people who grieve are broken and hurting. Being present at funerals says that you have their backs. Showing up is enough.

MONEY – Yes, there are times when you see me give money to the church when we do not have money for something that you want. Contributing to the common good – helping those who cannot help themselves and supporting groups that do that work is important. It is not always about you.

BELIEF – Science and religion are not polar opposites. You don't have to reject one to accept the other. Atoms, molecules, and quarks are real. So are forgiveness, faith, and god's lovingkindness. Don't refuse to believe because you can't see something with your eyes. See with your heart.

ALL PEOPLE MATTER – Your teammates, family, teachers, classmates, the homeless person at the shelter, the drunk kid at the party, a rich snob are all beloved children of God. All people matter and should be treated with dignity and respect.

HOLY COMMUNION – That moment when we are at the altar rail for Communion is a holy time for me. It gives me the forgiveness I need for all the mistakes I have made and the strength to stand up and try again. You will need forgiveness and strength too.

TIME – I won't always be here to remind you of what is important. I want you to have a place to remember and celebrate and start over. Love never ends.
I love you forever and ever. Amen.

Love, Mom

SHARING THE GOOD NEWS WITH OUR ST. JOHNS FAMILY

As of 8/22 Mum (Joan Rock) was officially released from hospice care.

She is no longer dying - she is aging. I share our joy with you as I know that many of you prayed for our family over the past year. Through prayer shawls, cards and warm hugs. I felt your love and support. Thank you. We are grateful to you our St. Johns family.

Miracles are abounding here.

Lunch on the 2nd Sunday – every other month – Volunteers arrive to serve at noon. Volunteer groups are asked to bring the meal as the program no longer has a meal program or a food budget.
