

An invitation to Work on Personal Racial Equity Awareness

The recent killings of unarmed African Americans, as well as the actions of Amy Cooper, have made us realize that we all need to more work around race and white privilege.

We invite you to join us - members of MSJC's Racial Justice issue team, Adele Social Justice Project and others in the Marianist Family – as we explore the foundations of “whiteness” and how the notion of “whiteness” continues to harm our world. Using the podcast series, “Seeing White,” we will dive into questions on “whiteness” including where did the notion of “whiteness” come from? What does it mean? And what is “whiteness” for?

Join us via Zoom for an 8-week series of conversation, reflection, and prayer based on the “Seeing White” podcasts. Click on the video at right to watch a short trailer for the series or click here for the series website.

If you’re interested please complete this “Seeing White” interest form. Participants should be available on Thursdays from 8 to 9pm Eastern for all 8 weeks from July 23 – September 10.

Space is limited to 15 people. This series will be repeated in the future depending on interest.
