Clint McCann's research and writing have focused on the Psalms. A noted biblical scholar, he served as chair of the Psalms Section, Society of Biblical Literature, for 10 years. His publications on the Psalms include: The Shape and Shaping of the Psalter (1993); A Theological Introduction to the Book of Psalms: The Psalms as Torah (1993); the Psalms commentary in The New Interpreter's Bible (Vol. 4; 1996); Preaching the Psalms (2001); Great Psalms of the Bible (2009); Psalms: Immersions Bible Studies (2011); & annotations on the Psalms in The Access Bible, The Learning Bible, & The Discipleship Study Bible. Dr. McCann is the author of numerous articles & essays on the Psalms & other biblical material. He served as Consulting Translator of the Book of Psalms for The Common English Bible, & wrote the introduction to & annotations on the Psalms for its Study Bible (2013). He is also the author of Judges (2002) in the series Interpretation: A Bible Commentary for Teaching and Preaching.

Professor McCann is a Teaching Elder in the Presbyterian Church (USA), & served as a pastor in North Carolina from 1978-1987. He frequently teaches beyond the Eden campus, & has lectured or taught for church groups or academic gatherings in 27 states. During the summers of 2007-2010 & 2012-2013, he served as Resident Minister of the New Piasa Chautauqua near Elsah, IL. Clint is especially interested in the intersection of religion & culture. His book Facing the Music: Faith and Meaning in Popular Songs (2009) sprung from this interest, & he often uses songs & videos in his teaching. To fulfill his commitment to multicultural education, Clint has led groups of students to Guatemala & Costa Rica; to Nicaragua & Costa Rica; and to El Salvador & Costa Rica. He continues to increase his proficiency in speaking Spanish.

Professor McCann's teaching philosophy is to "try to instill in students the idea that academic inquiry is a way to deepen their faith. Questions and new ideas are always a stimulus to think, and the simplest definition of theology is 'thinking about God,' especially about the astounding implications that the Bible portrays God as unfailingly gracious, merciful, and loving on a world-encompassing scale."

Rev. McCann is committed to attempting to practice what he teaches. He is active with CROP/Church World Service, Bread for the World, Heifer International, & International Partners in Mission. He is an Associate Member of the Iona Community (based on the Isle of Iona & in Glasgow, Scotland), & is dedicated to pursuing justice, peace, & the flourishing of all creation.

After completing his academic preparation -- Davidson College, A.B.,1973; Union Theological Seminary in Virginia, D.Min.,1977; Union Theological Seminary in Virginia, Th.M.,1978; Duke University, Ph.D.,1985 – Clint's been on Eden Theological Seminary's faculty since 1987.

Clint's wife, Sarah, is one of the pastors of Hope United Church of Christ in St. Louis. He has three daughters—Jennifer, Sarah, & Annalise—and a son, Ian. In his spare time, Clint enjoys playing and watching basketball—especially Duke & Davidson basketball—and long jumping & triple jumping in local, regional, & national Senior Olympic competitions. He also runs half-marathons.
