

Ryan Noe

Candidate for Board of Directors

As an AFM member since 2013, I believe that musicians must work together to build a better, more secure future for all. In addition to my performing and teaching career, I have held administrative roles at Boston University, UMass-Boston, and the Powers School of Music, developing strong organizational and management skills. I am experienced in mediating challenging professional situations and dedicated to finding effective solutions. I am committed to fostering unity and advocating for musicians' needs. I hope to bring my experience, dedication, and collaborative spirit to the Boston Musicians Association Board and serve our vibrant community.
