

ACADIA SENIOR COLLEGE

Providing opportunities for learning, teaching and having fun

Courses

Fall, Winter & Spring Courses offer something for everyone. In the past five years alone, ASC has hosted over 150 courses. Everything from making cookies to the Geology of MDI to learning about the history of film has kept us interested and involved.

Presentations

Acadia Senior College hosts many events that are open not only to members but to the public as well. Food for Thought has brought speakers from many areas of expertise. Whether Micheal Pancoe sharing his love and knowledge of cartography, Bonnie Chase demonstrating uses of natural, botanical inks and dyes, or Dave Edson discussing the challenges facing housing issues on Mount Desert Island, there is always something to learn. Coffee Clash brings speakers from varying perspectives to facilitate conversations about issues affecting us all. The Clunan Lecture series provides an opportunity to hear a world-class speaker locally. Last year, ASC hosted Nirev Shah who gave a dynamic presentation about the state of public health.

Gatherings

Good food, good music, and good company through parties, field trips, book clubs, an Annual Members' Art Show and more! ASC loves an excuse to gather, socialize and explore. Even in the darkest days of the winter, we offer fun opportunities to see friends and neighbors.
