Dear Carla Lomenda:

Every day in communities across our province, Albertans are stepping forward and giving generously of their time, talents and passion to make life better for their neighbours, friends and countless others they may never come to know. As a volunteer, you are part of an amazing family of caring, compassionate citizens who, together, are building stronger communities and a stronger Alberta.

Your contribution has not gone unnoticed. Your name was put forward as a nominee for the 2024 Stars of Alberta Volunteer Awards (alberta.ca/stars-of-alberta-volunteer-awards), presented by the Ministry of Arts, Culture and Status of Women. The selection committee had the difficult task of choosing nine individuals to receive this year's awards.

While you are not among the finalists for this year's awards, it is a true testament to the impact you have made in your community that you were nominated by fellow citizens. Your volunteer service is a source of pride for your community, and the selection committee felt strongly that you should be recognized for those selfless efforts. Please find enclosed a certificate of recognition.

The province of Alberta is rich in resources, the most precious of which is our volunteers. As the Minister of Arts, Culture and Status of Women and on behalf of the Honourable Danielle Smith, Premier of Alberta, and Alberta's government, thank you for being an Alberta volunteer!

Sincerely,

Honourable Tanya Fir
Minister of Arts, Culture and Status of Women
