Many communities are facing extraordinary challenges in the aftermath of recent disasters. When communities begin to plan their recovery and make decisions, it is often helpful to hear from those who have lived through similar disasters. This event will serve as an opportunity to share with community leaders about recovery and rebuilding after a disaster. Additionally, the event will feature targeted discussions on cost of recovery and financial concerns.

We encourage each impacted community to attend in particular, representatives from the list below:

County and Municipal Elected Officials

County and Municipal Managers, Administrators and Clerks

Planning and Community Development Directors

Floodplain Managers & Emergency Managers

Economic Developers

Grant Administrators

Education Leaders
