Vestry Notes

- ◆ NEW! The Rev Jerry Molitor has accepted the call to serve as Vicar of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Waupun, Wisconsin, on a part-time basis. Father Jerry ministered with St James for 13 months ago as part of the path to ordination as a priest. Congratulations, Jerry!
- ◆ NEW! We began live-streaming worship services on October 24 (we previously pre-recorded our services). Videos will still be available to view at a later time/day for those who can't watch live.
- ◆ NEW! The treasurer transition is in progress. Linda Molitor is learning the ropes as our new treasurer, and Burbey CPA will be working with our payroll, checks, and other tasks. THANK YOU to our retiring treasurer, Peggy Turnbull, for her years serving in this ministry for our congregation.

St James Book Group meets 10/27 at 7PM

The St James Book Group plans to meet in the St James Fellowship Hall and via Zoom on Wednesday, October 27 at 7PM. Those gathering in-person should wear masks and spread out. Books are available through the library, most book stores, and through online retailers, and Kindle and audiobooks are available. As always, even if you have not read the book you are welcome to join in the discussion. If you have technical difficulties contact Amma Diane Murray 920-860-5152.

The book being read and discussed this month is A Most Beautiful Thing by Arshay Cooper.

This is a story about triumphing over adversity, of mentorship and personal investment, of sports and endurance, and of faith—in yourself, in others, and your team. Arshay Cooper was part of the first all-Black high school rowing team, a feat that landed him on the cover of the Chicago Tribune. It would also catapult his life that at one time seemed destined for destruction—"it takes a village to raise a child, and our village is gang members, drug dealers, drug addicts, and prostitutes. It's easy to become a product of this"—to higher education and the professional world. At first the very thought of a Black rowing crew was laughable to Cooper and his friends: "you ain't gonna get black people rowing down the lake like slaves." But the discipline and commitment of the coaches and the opportunities they promised drew him in. "I am done with my old life. I choose rowing. I choose a future." And so begins the pursuit of rowing in unison, which would expose Cooper and his teammates to college campuses, different states, internships and jobs. In some ways this is a memoir of underdogs fighting their way to the top, but it's also about how an entire population is left out of the opportunity loop and how a seemingly small thing like sports can change lives.
