All the words you will need are in this bulletin: Text that the people say is prefaced with "People" or "All" and is in a bold font. All song lyrics are also in this bulletin.

Wi-Fi access: Look for our networks beginning with CBCI-77B0 and enter password build7443guitar; we encourage you to share pictures and posts on social media.

Worship/Liturgy Sources: Our worship is based on the Book of Common Prayer (BCP--the red hardcover book in the pew rack), the Book of Occasional Services, the Enriching Our Worship series—the primary liturgical resources authorized by General Convention of The Episcopal Church—supplemented by occasional other resources. You may find additional prayers in the BCP on pages 832-834 helpful for personal devotion before, during, and after worship (especially prayers 64-69 and 57-61). If you'd like a BCP for your own use at home, the church can provide one for you—please talk to Tony Karl.

Children: Children of all ages are welcome in worship! Activity bags are available in the back of the church. A changing station is available in the restroom in the atrium just outside the sanctuary.

Hearing Loop: Our Hearing Loop system enables people with hearing loss to better hear sounds through our sound system. If you can set your hearing aid to a T or M/T setting, audio from our sound system will be received directly by your device (70% of aids have this feature). If your aid does not have this option, or you do not wear a hearing aid, there are a few portable headsets available in the back of the church.

 Please share your prayer requests with us: All are invited to share their prayer requests so that the entire congregation may join in lifting up your needs and thanksgivings. Please add requests to the Prayers of the People clipboard (you can simply use first names on requests... God knows our needs). If you'd like a prayer lifted up for multiple weeks, please fill out a prayer request slip found at the back of the church.

We worship with our bodies: You'll notice that some of us may sit, stand, and kneel at various points in the service. Some of us may make the sign of the cross or bow now and then. Some may clap, raise their hands, or tap their feet. All of these movements are traditions from various parts of our Christian heritage—none are required, none are frowned upon. All are welcome to express whatever movements they might find meaningful in worship. Some instructions are printed throughout this bulletin—you may also observe what others do. None of these movements are a requirement: if you prefer not to use them, don't worry about it—God doesn't.

Restrooms/Layout/Accessibility: A handicapped-accessible restroom is located in the atrium just outside the sanctuary (next to the elevator.) Another restroom is located on the lower level. The atrium gives access to the lower level and upper level by stairs or elevator. The worship space and chapel are located on the upper level. The office, fellowship hall, library, and classrooms are located on the lower level and marked by signs.

The Rev'd Diane M Murray retired on 12/31 after more than 13 years as our pastor. During our transition and search process, we'll arrange a mix of supply (substitute) clergy and also make use of our option for lay-led worship (more prevalent in The Episcopal Church prior to 1980). Our Celebrant today is The Rev'd Brian Staude. Pastor Brian is ordained in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). The Episcopal Church has a "full communion" relationship with the ELCA, which allows us to share clergy.

>Welcome! The Celebrant welcomes the people.

Celebrant God be with you.

People And also with you.

Celebrant Let us pray. O God, who before the passion of your only begotten Son revealed his glory upon the holy mountain: Grant to us that we, beholding by faith the light of his countenance, may be strengthened to bear our cross, and be changed into his likeness from glory to glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

People AMEN!

Please be seated.

First Lesson

Reader 1 A reading of Exodus chapter 24, verses 12 through 18.

The Lord said to Moses, "Come up to me on the mountain, and wait there; and I will give you the tablets of stone, with the law and the commandment, which I have written for their instruction." So Moses set out with his assistant Joshua, and Moses went up into the mountain of God. To the elders he had said, "Wait here for us, until we come to you again; for Aaron and Hur are with you; whoever has a dispute may go to them."

Then Moses went up on the mountain, and the cloud covered the mountain. The glory of the Lord settled on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it for six days; on the seventh day he called to Moses out of the cloud. Now the appearance of the glory of the Lord was like a devouring fire on the top of the mountain in the sight of the people of Israel. Moses entered the cloud, and went up on the mountain. Moses was on the mountain for forty days and forty nights.

Reader 1 Hear what the Spirit is saying to God's people.

People Thanks be to God.

Unison Reading

Reader 1 Let us read in unison Psalm 99.

All The LORD is King; let the people tremble; our God is enthroned upon the cherubim; let the earth shake. The LORD is great in Zion; * high above all peoples. Let them confess the holy Name, which is great and awesome; the Lord is the Holy One. "O mighty King, lover of justice, you have established equity; you have executed justice and righteousness in Jacob." Proclaim the greatness of the LORD our God and fall down before God's footstool; the Lord is the Holy

One. Moses and Aaron among the priests, and Samuel among those who call upon God's Name, they called upon the LORD, who answered them. The Lord spoke to them out of the pillar of cloud; they kept God's testimonies and the decree that was given. "O LORD our God, you answered them indeed; you were a God who forgave them, yet punished them for their evil deeds." Proclaim the greatness of the LORD our God and worship the Lord upon the holy hill; for the LORD our God is the Holy One.

New Testament

Reader 2 A reading of Second Peter chapter 1, verses 16 through 21.

We did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we had been eyewitnesses of his majesty. For he received honor and glory from God the Father when that voice was conveyed to him by the Majestic Glory, saying, "This is my Son, my Beloved, with whom I am well pleased." We ourselves heard this voice come from heaven, while we were with him on the holy mountain.

So we have the prophetic message more fully confirmed. You will do well to be attentive to this as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and the morning star rises in your hearts. First of all you must understand this, that no prophecy of scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation, because no prophecy ever came by human will, but men and women moved by the Holy Spirit spoke from God.

Reader 2 Hear what the Spirit is saying to God's people.

People Thanks be to God.

All who are able, please stand as the Celebrant moves to the center aisle.

Gospel

Matthew 17. 1-9

Celebrant The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Matthew.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Celebrant Six days later, Jesus took with him Peter and James and his brother John and led them up a high mountain, by themselves. And he was transfigured before them, and his face shone like the sun, and his clothes became dazzling white. Suddenly there appeared to them Moses and Elijah, talking with him. Then Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here; if you wish, I will make three dwellings here, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." While he was still speaking, suddenly a bright cloud overshadowed them, and from the cloud a voice said, "This is my Son, the Beloved; with him I am well pleased; listen to him!" When the disciples heard this, they fell to the ground and were overcome by fear. But Jesus came and touched them, saying, "Get up and do not be afraid." And when they looked up, they saw no one except Jesus himself alone. As they were coming down the mountain, Jesus ordered them, "Tell no one about the vision until after the Son of Man has been raised from the dead."

Nicene Creed

Celebrant Let us join in the words of the Nicene Creed.

All We believe in one God, the Father, the Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all that is, seen and unseen. We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father, God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, of one Being with the Father; through him all things were made. For us and for our salvation he came down from heaven, was incarnate of the Holy Spirit and the Virgin Mary and became truly human. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate; he suffered death and was buried. On the third day he rose again in accordance with the Scriptures; he ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and his kingdom will have no end. We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father, who with the Father and the Son is worshiped and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. We believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. We acknowledge one baptism for the forgiveness of sins. We look for the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. AMEN!

All AMEN!

"Jesus out of ev'ry nation has redeemed us by his blood."

Alleluia! not as orphans are we left in sorrow now;

Alleluia! Bread of Heaven, thou on earth our food, our stay!

Alleluia! here the sinful flee to thee from day to day:

Invitation to Communion

from the Iona Community, Scotland

Celebrant The table of bread and wine is now to be made ready. It is the table of company with Jesus, and all who love him. It is the table of sharing with the poor of the world, with whom Jesus identified himself. It is the table of communion with the earth, in which Christ became incarnate. So come to this table, you who have much faith and you who would like to have more; you who have been here often and you who have not been for a long time; you who have tried to follow Jesus, and you who have failed; come.

Celebrant Lift up your hearts.
People We lift them to the Lord.

People It is right to give our thanks and praise.
Celebrant It is right, and a good and joyful thing, always and everywhere to give thanks to you, Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth. Because in the mystery of the Word made flesh, you have caused a new light to shine in our hearts, to give the knowledge of your glory in the face of your son Jesus Christ our Lord. Therefore we praise you, joining our voices with Angels and Archangels and with all the company of heaven, who for ever sing this hymn to proclaim the glory of your Name:

Ho - ly, ho - ly, ho - ly, reign - ing God of pow'r and might, heav'n and earth are full of your glo - ry, all cre - a - tion seeks your light! Bles-sed is the one who comes in your name. Bles-sed be the Lord most high!

Setting: PICARDY, French carol; arr Kimberly Bracken Long.

Celebrant We give thanks to you, O God, for the goodness and love which you have made known to us in creation; in the calling of Israel to be your people; in your Word spoken through the prophets; and above all in the Word made flesh, Jesus, your Son. For in these last days you sent him to be incarnate from the Virgin Mary, to be the Savior and Redeemer of the world. In him, you have delivered us from evil, and made us worthy to stand before you. In him, you have brought us out of error into truth, out of sin into righteousness, out of death into life.

On the night before he died for us, our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to you, he broke it, and gave it to his disciples, and said, "Take... eat: This is my Body, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me."

After supper he took the cup of wine; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you: This is my Blood of the new Covenant, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink it, do this for the remembrance of me."

Celebrant Great is the mystery of faith:

Celebrant And we offer our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving to you, O Lord of all; presenting to you, from your creation, this bread and this wine.

We pray to you, gracious God, to send your Holy Spirit upon these gifts that they may be the Sacrament of the Body of Christ and his Blood of the new Covenant. Unite us to your Son in his sacrifice, that we may be acceptable through him, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit. In the fullness of time, put all things in subjection under your Christ, and bring us to that heavenly country where, with all your saints, we may enter the everlasting heritage of your sons and daughters; through Jesus Christ our Lord, the firstborn of all creation, the head of the Church, and the author of our salvation.

Celebrant By him, and with him, and in him, in the unity of the Holy Spirit all honor and glory is yours, Almighty Father, now and for ever.

Celebrant As our Savior Christ has taught us, we now pray,
 All Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your Name, your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as in heaven. Give us today our daily bread.
 Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us. Save us from the time of trial, and deliver us from evil. For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are yours, now and for ever. AMEN!

by Linda C Smith-Criddle

Celebrant Let us join in prayer for our time of transition.

All Assist us, Lord, in living hopefully into the future. In the face of change, help us to set unnecessary fears aside and to recognize our potential for creative response. Help us to develop a reasonable optimism, when confronted by "the new" and to guard us against our own defensiveness. All this we ask in the name of your Child, our savior, Jesus Christ. AMEN!

Laying Down Our Alleluias

Celebrant There is a time to laugh and a time to mourn. As we prepare to enter the season of Lent in this coming week, we bring forth acts that are suitable signs of repentance. We remember that the sacrifices of God are a humble spirit. It is a humble and contrite heart that God does not despise. Until the day when Christ's resurrection is celebrated with joy and gladness, we commit our joyful "Alleluias" to God who gave it. Let us pray.

People O God, look with favor on us, your people gathered here today. We know that we have sinned against you and others, yet we look to you for mercy. Spare us, as you have spared your people in the past. During this coming season of Lent, help us to re-order our lives so that others can see your presence. We ask this in Christ's name. AMEN!

Celebrant Happy are the dead who die in the faith of Christ! Henceforth, says the Spirit, they may rest from their labors. So says the church of its "Alleluia". Today it dies until, with Christ, it rises at his glorious resurrection. When he died, he died to sin, once and for all. Living as he lives, Christ lives to God. In the same way, we must regard ourselves as dead to sin and alive to God, in union with Christ Jesus. Alleluia!

People Alleluia! AMEN!

News

News brief on Trialogue meeting January 14

2/2/2023

Members of the Trialogue task forces and steering committee gathered for the first time in person Saturday, January 14, in Stevens Point to hear a presentation on adaptive leadership and change by the Rt. Rev. Sean Rowe, bishop of the Diocese of Northwest Pennsylvania and bishop provisional of the Diocese of Western New York, followed by a round-table discussion on their respective work so far and the challenges and opportunities ahead. Hosting the gathering was the Beloved Community, the joint Episcopal/Lutheran ministry of Episcopal Church of the Intercession and Redeemer Lutheran Church pastored by the Rev. Jane Johnson.

Bishop Rowe noted that exploring the reunification of three dioceses is a major adaptive challenge, one that requires stakeholders—the people of the dioceses—to identify the nature of the challenge and its solution. Adaptive problems, he said, are distinct from technical problems, which are challenges we understand clearly and know how to solve, even if the solution is complicated. Heart surgery, he said, is a technical problem; although it is complicated, a heart surgeon has the required expertise. But discerning the role of the institutional church in the 21st century is adaptive: no expert has the answer, so we have to figure it out together.

Because an adaptive problem has no known solution, it requires developing a process that helps people manage and distribute loss, he said. "With adaptive change, you are asking people to change values, behaviors, and beliefs," he said, "much of which was hard won," and therefore run the risk of sparking resistance. Only by engaging the stakeholders can the church move forward.

"We're going to ask you to give something up for a missional wager," Rowe said, offering a suggestion about

EPISCOPAL WISCONSIN TRIALOGUE

“THIS VISION for our children and grandchildren, for future generations. This is bigger than ourselves.”

In envisioning a reunified diocese, Rowe cautioned against confusing technical problems with adaptive challenges. He offered, as cautionary tales, the Episcopal Church’s major church growth and evangelism initiatives such as the Decade of Evangelism program in the 1990s and the 20/20 initiative in the first two decades of the 2000s. “They were taking adaptive problems and throwing technical solutions at it and then doubling down,” he said. Not surprisingly, little came out of either initiative.

“This is critical mission-focused work that you are taking on,” Rowe told the task force members. “That means exercising leadership that challenges but also listens to stakeholders, leadership that can acknowledge and learn from failure. Not everyone will sign on so success may be measured at no more than 90 percent support.

During the round table discussion, Bishop Rowe emphasized the fluid nature of adaptive change. Not every question will have an answer during this exploration. Some matters may require ongoing discernment after the three dioceses commit to reunification, he noted. “The most important step is to continue to clarify the ‘why,’” he said, encouraging the task force members to view their work as an effort to “create a container where mission can flourish.”

Among the suggestions from task force members during the round-table conversation were more regular sharing of information among the task forces and direct communication to church members about the work being done by the task forces.

Several task force members shared their hopes for the Trialogue in interviews during the lunch break. The Rev. Jane Johnson, a member of the Culture and Mission Task Force, said she hoped that members of the three dioceses recognize the need for adaptive change, “instead of just avoiding it or fearing it,” and realize that we are being given the tools to meet adaptive challenge.

The Rev. Chris Corbin, also of the Culture and Mission Task Force, said he hoped for a reunited Wisconsin diocese “that is committed to common mission, committed to resource sharing, and is committed to thinking about how we can actively work for this ministry of reconciliation that has been entrusted to us as Christians.”

Trust was the focus for Sister Barbara Jean Brown of the Prayer and Discernment Task Force. “My hope,” she said “is that we will really come to trust each other, to trust the process and trust where we feel God is leading us, whether that is to be one diocese of Wisconsin or to remain as three separate dioceses. My personal hope is that we join together.”

“My hope is that everyone is heard,” said the Rev. Julie Hendrix of the Parish and Regional Engagement Task Force, and that “the Holy Spirit leads us on the mission that God would have us do.” She said she also hopes that whatever the outcome is with the October vote on reunification “we will realize that we are still on a journey and that the journey doesn’t end in October.”
