UPDATED! Support our community through CARElink

Manitowoc area faith communities have come together to create CARElink, a program that provides participating churches a referral system for people that are seeking financial assistance. This was birthed out of needs identified by the Manitowoc Ecumenical Ministry Group, in which Nick Doszkewycz represents St James. CARElink is a collaboration of congregations seeking a structured means of distributing monies for social service purposes.

The local Salvation Army provides professional staff to interview clients referred by participating congregations, utilizing the human services information networks to determine each client's legitimate need. CARElink funds are used to address these needs on a case-by-case basis. Clients may also be assisted through already-established Salvation Army channels or in collaboration with other community agencies. Financial assistance will be disbursed under current Salvation Army guidelines.

Referral is not a guarantee of assistance. The Salvation Army case manager keeps careful records of each contact, and client history information. This program is especially helpful with many area clergy being part-time, serving multiple locations, or living outside Manitowoc.

Several local faith groups are already participants. St James is planning to covenant with the CARElink program starting in 2021. The Vestry will include $500 in our 2021 operating budget and are hoping we can raise at least another $500 toward CARElink through donations. If you would like to help support this program, please make your check payable to St James and indicate "CARElink" in the memo. Thanks!

UPDATED! We've received $200 in donations so far—thanks! We're still hoping for another $300+ in donations to send when we covenant in January.

A note and invitation from Amma Diane

Dear friends,

We've had good conversations during our Becoming Beloved Community discussion series. There has been a desire by those who have participated in these conversations—and by others in our St James Community—to move deeper into some more education on racial reconciliation, gender equality, etc.

We will be offering, to all in the congregation who are interested to join, a book read and discussion that should help us as individuals and as a faith community explore how race and gender affect our lives and what we might do to help address the issues facing us, our communities, our country, and the world. This book read and ensuing conversations will be a whole St James Church undertaking, but broken down into small groups for discussion. People will not be forced to participate, but I am encouraging people to take part. There will be group offerings at different times and days so people can choose what in this schedule might work best for them. We will read this book together starting the week of January 10 through the week of February 14, 2021.

The book we will be readings is, Passionate for Justice: Ida B. Wells as Prophet for Our Time by Catherine Meeks and Nibs Stroupe. The book is not a biography of Ida Wells but is rather a tool for us to learn how we can get to reconciliation and actually become a beloved community. The authors and Ida are people from faith communities and encouragers of faith communities to Become Beloved Communities, so I believe this can help us on our journey. We are on a journey, and we are not all in the same place on that journey, so this process will help us to grow and learn and journey together.

If you have not heard of Ida, her story is quite remarkable in many ways. This book is written with her story in mind but dealing with our current context. Meeks and Stroupe argue Wells's life spans a pivotal intersection of racial and gender oppression within American history—which launches their examination of present-day white supremacy. While the biography section is brief, the subsequent analysis is deeply moving. This book is a guide for the current state of affairs in American culture, enlivened by the historical perspective of Wells' search for justice.

Meeks, a black woman, is the retired Professor of Socio-Cultural Studies at Wesleyan College and the Director of the Absalom Jones Center for Racial Healing. Stroupe, a white man, and child of white supremacy is a retired pastor of Oakhurst Presbyterian Church and a nationally recognized leader in the multicultural and racial justice ministry. The authors have dedicated themselves to working, writing, and developing ministries oriented toward justice, equity, and mercy.

This is a fairly short book (160 pages) and not difficult to read. There are discussion questions at the end of each chapter so group conversations can be guided by those questions. We will read and discuss one chapter a week.

Here are the ways to participate in this book read running the week of January 10 the week of February 15:

1. Sundays at 8:45AM during bible study, with Amma Diane facilitating.
2. Mondays at 10:00AM, with Joan Estes facilitating.
3. The Vestry will be reading this as a group, with Amma Diane facilitating.
4. For people who cannot join either group 1 or 2, you will be able to participate in the discussion by one-on-one phone conversations, which Amma Diane will coordinate. Let her know if you'd like this option.

Amma Diane will cover the cost of the books (paperback is what's available) and see that people get them (with some help to be sure). If people want to contribute to the cost ($15) of the book they are welcome to, but Amma does do not want the cost to be a reason people do not participate. The book is also available in Kindle and Nook format (about $11.99) and audiobooks, Audible $9.78 or 1 credit if you are a member, also on Apple Books and Kobo. The authors read the audiobook.

I hope you'll accept the invitation to join us in this all-church book read! Let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Scrip upcoming order dates 1/10, 2/14, 3/14

Scrip can still be purchased while we are apart by calling Tammy McVeigh to place your order and mailing a check to St James. Your scrip will be delivered to you when it comes. Scrip is a way for you to purchase store gift cards for your own use or to give as gifts. The card user gets full value for the amount and St James receives a percent (varies with retailer). The money St James receives goes into our Outreach Fund. Contact Amma Diane or Tammy if you need an order form.

CARES Act charitable giving benefits

The CARES (Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security) Act, signed into law on March 27, includes several provisions that benefit charitable giving. Beginning in 2020, individuals can deduct up to $300 in charitable contributions from their gross income even if they do not itemize deductions. For 2020, the cap on itemized deductions for cash contributions is lifted, from 60% up to 100% of their income, a significant tax savings for anyone able to contribute larger amounts. Gifts of appreciated securities, and gifts to a donor advised fund or supporting organization, do not qualify for these benefits. These benefits are intended to encourage people to continue to support non-profit organizations, including churches, during the COVID-19 pandemic.
