Following kiddush, families are reminded to please clean up after their children. Thank you so much!

CHASSIDIC JUDAISM CLASS

The Jewish mystical tradition is thousands of years old. Chassidic Jewish teachings offer practical and holistic approaches to everyday Jewish spirituality. The teachings of the Baal Shem Tov, whose lessons gave the entire world insight into some of life's deepest mysteries, bring us enriched perspectives about G-d, the universe, and ourselves.

Rabbi Adam Winston has given hundreds of shiurim on Chassidic subjects all over the world, and will be giving a ten-part series introducing these concepts and applying them to the Jewish calendar. The first five dates are:

Thursday, 09/19/19, 8pm: What is Chassidut? The Transmission of Jewish Mysticism

Thursday, 09/26/19, 8pm: Rose Hashanah with the Baal Shem Tov

Thursday, 10/03/19, 8pm: Yom Kippur with the Baal Shem Tov

Thursday, 10/24/19, 8pm: The Holy Berditchever, Defender of Israel

Thursday, 12/19/19, 8pm: Chanukah with the Bnei Yissaschar

Location: Keneseth Beth Israel, Weger chapel

Please Email Rabbi Winston if interested in attending at adam.winston@richmond.edu to allow for an appropriate amount of coffee and nosh.

UPDATE!

SOCIAL JUSTICE COMMITTEE @ SHALOM FARMS

The third annual volunteer day at Shalom Farms WILL NOT MEET ON 8/25. New date to be determined.

Shalom Farms (<https://shalomfarms.org>) is a regional food access and community development project in Powhattan started in 2008. The concept grew out of conversations with Camp Westview on the James and other community partners, who recognized the need for broader food justice work and a desire to use Westview's rural resources to better serve urban Richmond. The mission of Shalom Farms fits wonderfully in the efforts of KBI's Social Justice committee to serve those underserved and living with food insecurity.

For more information, contact Miriam Davidow (mrdavidow@gmail.com). For more information about volunteering at Shalom Farms, see the information sheet (See link in KBI online newsletter or <https://shalomfarms.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/03/2019-Information-Sheet.pdf>). A signed on-line waiver (<https://shalomfarms.org/waiver>) is required before volunteering.

AIPAC UPDATE: AUGUST 16, 2019

U.S. Army Finalizes Iron Dome Deal

With bipartisan support from Congress, Israel developed the Iron Dome—life-saving technology to protect its citizens from rockets fired by Iranian-backed terror groups. Now, it will help protect American troops. The contract to purchase two Iron Dome systems for the U.S. Army's interim cruise missile defense capability has been finalized, as reported in Defense News.

Iron Dome was co-developed by American company Raytheon and Israeli defense firm Rafael. "Iron Dome could feed into an enduring capability," Daryl Youngman said. The missile defense system will be fielded to operational units and will likely participate in formal and informal exercises to identify how it can be used as part of the Indirect Fires Protection Capability program—under development to defend against rockets, artillery and mortars, as well as unmanned aircraft and cruise missiles—and air defense architectures, compared to how it is currently employed in Israel countering incoming rockets and missiles at short range. Iron Dome is one of the most used air defense systems in the world.
