She has been on the AITC-SK board since April of 2024.

She now owns and operates Bird's Eye Agronomic Consulting Ltd.

Robyn has a background in retail agronomy.

Robyn Henry

"I joined the AITC board as both a grain farmer and a mom of two young boys. Canada's safe, high-quality food supply doesn't come from just one type of farm—it's the result of many diverse agricultural sectors working together. It's important that we expose the next generation to the big picture so they can appreciate and understand the food system that helps grow and nourish future farmers and consumers!"
