

You're invited!

January 9th CCJN Retreat

You, yes, YOU are invited to the 3rd annual Creation Care Justice Network (Diocese of MA) retreat for refreshment, relationship-building, and reflection.

When? Saturday, Jan. 9 in the morning (9:30-noon, with breaks)

Where? Virtual, join from anywhere!

What? The heart of the time will be a “World Café” model of wrestling with the question, “How is God calling us to respond to the climate emergency*?”

- small group interactions
- art
- embodied spiritual practice
- conversation that delves deeply

Who? You and anyone in your parish or community who feels called to the work of addressing climate injustice and global heating from a lens of faith

Why? COVID is a painful “dress rehearsal” for the deeper challenges and changes that we are facing through global heating, now declared a climate emergency, and systemic injustice. Our faith gives us the grounding, community, and spiritual tools to join in this work in the face of daunting predictions. Join us!

What else? Phoebe Chatfield, Associate for Creation Care and Justice from the national Episcopal Church, will facilitate our conversations

Sign up? To register, go to: https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZ0oc-upqj0sHdD-z4IAWBLfbZRfJFGxFy_p

Questions? Contact Dawn Tesorero, rangerdawn@gmail.com, or Lise Hildebrandt, lisehild@gmail.com, about the retreat or the Creation Care Justice Network.

*The 2020 diocesan Convention passed a resolution to declare a climate emergency in the diocese.

"Inukshuk" by Heart Windows Art is licensed under CC BY 2.0
"cup of tea" by secretlondon123 is licensed under CC BY-SA 2.0