

Building an Episcopal Network in MA for Those Interested in The Poor People's Campaign: A National Call for a Moral Revival

Have you heard of the Poor People's Campaign (PPC)? Would you like to learn more about this moral fusion movement? And discuss where and how the PPC fits in with our faith and how we might be called to action? The Episcopal Dioceses of MA and WMA Network for the Poor People's Campaign will have its inaugural meeting on December 7 from 7 to 8 pm. Please contact Martha Gardner, Diocese of MA's Missioner for Networking and Formation, for the zoom meeting information.

The goal is to build a network that connects Episcopalians in Massachusetts who support the PPC and/or are interested in learning more about both the PPC nationally and its work right here in Massachusetts (MAPPC.) At our initial meeting, we'll discuss how we can best connect with one another and to plan how to better educate ourselves on the interlocking injustices of systemic racism, poverty, ecological devastation, the war economy/militarism and the distorted moral narrative of religious nationalism. We will be organizing a book study of the recently published book We Cry Justice: Reading the Bible With the Poor People's Campaign. (Note: The Rev. Melanie Mullen, Director of Reconciliation, Justice and Creation Care on the Presiding Bishop's staff, is hosting a webinar with authors of this book on November 2 at 6:00 PM – information can be found here.)

There are many ways to be involved with and support the PPC and its work, including:

- 1 – Prayer
- 2 – Follow the PPC on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter and follow the MAPPC on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter
- 3 - Sign up with the MAPPC Action Network
- 4 - Educate yourself about the issues (great resources found here and here)
- 5 - Save the Date! June 18, 2022 is the Moral March on Washington (DC) and Poor People's & Low-Wage Workers' Assembly

Questions? Please contact Amelia Slawsby, St. Dunstan's Dover parishioner and MAPPC Coordinating Committee Member or Martha Gardner, Diocese of MA's Missioner for Networking and Formation.
