

January Advanced Bridge Lessons using Zoom – Jack Feagin

I will be starting the bridge lessons on Tuesday January 5th. The lessons involve very advanced problems and the lessons focus on identifying the issues and the methods of dealing with them. These lessons are presented on-line using Zoom. You can get a free version of ZOOM at Sign Up - Zoom

Most who took the lessons in the Summer and Fall series are signing up again. New problems and new topics to improve your game. Also, it's a fun two-hour bridge event involving you.

If you have any interest in these bridge lessons for advanced players, I can send you a prior recorded lesson to see if they are good for you. If you are not interested, but have a bridge friend who always says they want to improve please share this info. Some partnerships are taking the sessions together.

Just send me an email request to jfeagin2@gmail.com if you want to watch a prior recording,

The lessons are divided into three parts:

1. Discussion of tough bidding problems to help develop our bidding judgement.
2. Advance play and defensive problems with the idea that difficult problems improve our play.
3. A mixture of lead and best card combination plays.

In the lessons, we play 4th best lead and lead A from AKx.
Upside down count and attitude.
Standard 2/1 bidding.

At least one hand will involve squeezes. The mere mention of squeezes will scare off many. Yes, squeezes can be simple and sometimes very difficult. I also understand it's hard to teach this subject to B level players and hard to make them comfortable. However, we are achieving this objective in these lessons.

The lessons will be on Zoom every Tuesday at 10 am and we record the lessons for later watching in case you have a conflict or for review purposes. Cost of lessons $ 125 for 8 lessons about 2 hours each. If you don't have enough time this winter to get better when will you have time?
