- 250 colleagues will be able to present a poster. Posters should showcase the spectrum of your ongoing research and its trajectory. Each poster will be listed in the program as a conference presentation and will allow all participants to know you and your work. To assist you in the preparation of the posters, we will provide sample templates on the CTEWC website (<http://www.catholicethics.com/>) in November 2017.
- 100 colleagues will be able to present a paper at a concurrent session.

Posters

Posters will be vehicles to introduce the trajectories of the work of the selected poster presenters to fortify the network, our third conference theme. Rather than posters on a very particular, publishable topic, our call is for posters that convey the sphere of participants' contemporary work or of their cumulative scholarship. For instance, Jim Keenan could have a poster on university ethics; Andrea Vicini's poster could be on his contemporary work on public health; and I could have one on multi-layered interests in personal and social conscience. Individuals can make an individual proposal or two or more people may propose a collective poster. In either case, proposals should provide a title and 200-word abstract. By November 1, 2017 we will upload several posters of participants to our website (catholicethics.com) in order to give fellow participants some ideas and to indicate the posters' dimensions that will be allowed. The posters (and their proposals) may be in English, Spanish, French, or Italian. Please specify in which language the final poster will be. Please be aware that you will be responsible for printing your poster before traveling to Sarajevo and for bringing it to Sarajevo. We are unable to provide printing facilities at the conference location or elsewhere in the city. We will assist you in posting the posters in the selected conference locations.

Concurrent paper presentations

We will feature 25 concurrent panels with two presenters on each Concurrent Session.

Concurrent paper presentations must focus on one of the three themes of the conference: the climate crisis and its impact on the marginalized; the critical absence of unifying political leadership; and our need to network in response to these two crises. Each paper presentation will run for 15 minutes. Individuals can make an individual proposal or two people may propose a panel with two related presentations. In either case, proposals should provide a title and 200-word abstract for each presenter. These presentations (and their proposals) may be in English, Spanish, French, or Italian. Please specify the language.

In either proposal text, please indicate your name, title, institution, contact information, and whether or not your institution requires you to appear in the program with the title of your work in order to get assistance with funding for the conference.

How many proposals?

If they wish, participants may submit one proposal each for a poster and a concurrent paper presentation, but this is in no way required. Please be aware that participants will be selected only to post either a poster or to present a paper at a concurrent session.

Deadlines

Proposals are due by January 10, 2018 to Kristin Heyer (kristin.heyer@bc.edu). Participants will be notified of their acceptance by February 20, 2018.
