

Security Health Plan earns NCQA accreditation

Security Health Plan of Wisconsin has been awarded NCQA accreditation across major product lines, including Sanford commercial and Exchange and Security commercial, Exchange, Medicaid and Medicare products.

NCQA accreditation is a comprehensive, voluntary evaluation that assesses how well health plans manage care delivery, including provider networks, utilization management, credentialing and member experience. This achievement reflects a shared commitment to quality, patient-centered care and continuous improvement.

Accreditation also complements NCQA ratings, which measure clinical and patient experience outcomes annually. Together, they reinforce the importance of strong partnerships between health plans and providers in delivering high-quality care.
