

Security Health Plan announces new, distinctive names for its large employer networks

Effective July 1, 2019, Security Health Plan's Central and Valley networks will be renamed to better capture the Plan's brand identity and alleviate potential confusion over eligibility based on geographical location. The new network names will also align better with the naming conventions used in Security's individual and family, small employer and Medicare product lines.

With this change, the Central network will be called Premier and the Valley network will be called Affirm. Members enrolled in Premier or Affirm have received new ID cards and welcome sheets in May and June for the July 1, 2019, effective date. Members can also request a new schedule of benefits, which otherwise will be sent out when the group renews.

New network name	Name change effective date	Current network name
Premier (HMO and POS)	July 1, 2019	Central
Affirm (HMO and POS)	July 1, 2019	Valley
Inspire	No change	Inspire
Explore (HMO and POS)	Upon renewal	Statewide Nationwide

New Explore network option announced

Security Health Plan is proud to announce our new Explore network, combining statewide and nationwide coverage into a single network. Explore is designed to provide fully insured large employers the opportunity to offer broader network choices to their employees. Available as an HMO or POS plan, Explore can be offered as a stand-alone network or in conjunction with Premier, Affirm or Inspire.

Explore members will have access to providers at Marshfield Clinic Health System, Mayo Clinic Health System, Ascension north region, Aspirus, Bellin Health, Essentia, most OakLeaf facilities, ThedaCare, UW Health and more. Members will also be able to see providers in the First Health network. Full provider details are located on Security Health Plan's website at www.securityhealth.org/#provider.

Explore will be available July 1, 2019, and will replace Security Health Plan's Statewide and Nationwide networks. Statewide and Nationwide members will remain on their plan until their employer's renewal. At that time, if the employer chooses to offer Explore, members will receive new ID cards and plan material.
