

Security Health Plan transitions to Eviti platform for chemotherapy, radiation oncology reviews

Effective Jan. 1, 2026, Security Health Plan is partnering with Eviti Connect, a web-based platform enabling real-time decision support and prior authorization for oncology services, including chemotherapy and radiation.

Prior authorization requests for chemotherapy and radiation currently route through two different platforms, Prime Therapeutics and eviCore. The new collaboration with Eviti will streamline the process, reducing the administrative time involved in obtaining and providing authorization and ensuring a holistic review of a patient's treatment plan in its entirety.

Eviti Connect aggregates recommendations from national government agencies, reports and journal publications, including the NCCN Compendium, JCO, JNCI, Lancet, NEJM and JAMA, and is configured to reflect Security Health Plan's standards and requirements.

A detailed FAQ is available to review here, but here are the key things providers need to know about this transition:

- Prior authorizations for chemotherapy will transition from Prime Therapeutics to Eviti
 - Prior authorizations for oral chemotherapy will transition from internal Security pharmacy review to Eviti.
- Prior authorizations for radiation will transition from eviCore to Eviti.
- Patients undergoing treatment with a plan approved before Jan. 1, 2026, do not need those treatment plans re-entered or re-approved in Eviti. However, if updates or changes are needed, providers will then have to enter the plan into Eviti for approval.

Eviti is offering several training sessions for providers ahead of the Jan. 1 go-live date. To register for a webinar training session, click on the link below. Meeting invitations will be sent directly to participants.
