

Bringing a World of Energy Experience Together

Vanguard Award Recipient: Vamsi Chadalavada

Dr. Vamsi Chadalavada is Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer and is responsible for System Operations, Wholesale Markets Development and Operations, System Planning, Information Services, and Program Management at ISO-New England. He previously served as the company's Senior Vice President, Market and System Solutions. Before joining ISO New England in 2004, Dr. Chadalavada held a number of positions at Siemens Power Transmission and Distribution, including Vice President and General Manager of Siemens' Energy Management and Information Systems (EMIS), with responsibility for the North and South American region.