NEWS RELEASE

YMCA Cape Cod EXPANDING FREE childcare for ALL Essential Workers Effective April 1, 2020.

West Barnstable –Governor Charlie Baker, through the Massachusetts Department of Early Education and Care (“EEC”), has established a process to fund approved Exempt Emergency Child Care Programs to serve vulnerable children and the children of families who are required to work to maintain the health, safety and welfare of all Commonwealth citizens. This approach prioritizes public health and safety while maintaining critical service for vulnerable children and the children of families who are required to work during this pandemic. “Exempt Emergency Child Care Programs” will be the only childcare programs that are allowed to operate during the COVID-19 State of Emergency. <https://www.mass.gov/info-details/guidance-related-to-early-childhood-education-programs>

According to YMCA Cape Cod CEO Stacie Peugh,

“During these unprecedented and uncertain times, we are honored to expand this critical service to all essential workers. If the demand for supporting essential health care workers increases, we will determine how we can best serve the greatest need with our limited regulated capacity. Most of our staff has been laid off and our revenue streams have taken a significant blow. There is minimal state funding available to fulfill our mission and be of service to the those who have no other childcare alternatives. There are calculated risks associated with opening childcare sites during this time, but the risk to the community at large, when essential workers are not able to work due to lack of childcare, is much greater. Supporting the front line of this battle is exactly what the YMCA should be doing in times of world-wide crisis. I’m humbled by the childcare workers that have agreed to put themselves at some risk to serve the children of those we need most on the battle fields. Our hearts and hopes are with every citizen of Cape Cod, our State, our Country, and our World as we face the unknown together.”
