

Addressing Hoarding Behaviors in Housing

Thu, Oct 1 | 2-3:30pm ET / 11-12:30pm PT | $60

Hoarding and cluttering can be a challenging issue for service providers and property managers alike. At times these behaviors can create health and safety risks and potentially jeopardize a tenant's housing stability. This session will look at identifying signs and symptoms of hoarding and how service providers can help to address the underlying needs leading to these behaviors.
