The Cape Cod Youth Crisis Deepens

Too many Cape teens are in crisis. Due to circumstances beyond their control, Cape Cod's youth are facing unprecedented mental health and substance use challenges.

These aren't just kids—they are the future of our community, our workforce, and our families.

If we don't act now, we risk losing an entire generation to struggles they should never have to face alone.

Join us on March 20th at Wequassett Resort from 5-7p.m.

for a REAL TALK community panel and open forum discussion to learn how we can turn the tide—together.

Change must happen, and it must happen now. We look forward to seeing you there! All guests & attendees welcome.
