Boyne Mountain Turns It Up for Winter 2025-26: Gondola Beats, Midnight Rides & New Experiences

BOYNE FALLS, Mich. (November 6, 2025) – Boyne Mountain Resort is dialing up the winter experience with a lineup that spans from toddlers to late-night revelers. This season brings a DJ booth spinning beats in the base area, two Saturday nights of skiing until midnight, enhanced waterpark savings for lodging guests, and expanded programming for the resort's youngest skiers. Add in increased snowmaking capacity, comprehensive safety initiatives, and Saturday night access on the Northern Lights Pass, and Boyne Mountain is set to deliver a winter packed with fresh energy and experiences.

New Gondola Car DJ Booth Brings the Party to Village Lane

Boyne Mountain is transforming après in the base area with a repurposed gondola car DJ booth stationed along Village Lane. DJs will spin from inside the gondola car, creating an energetic atmosphere that keeps guests moving both on and off the slopes and adding a fresh soundtrack to the mountain scene.

Mountain 'til Midnight: Extended Night Skiing

Boyne Mountain is keeping the lifts spinning until midnight on two Saturday nights this season. Mountain 'til Midnight events are taking place on January 16, 2026, and February 13, 2026, and feature extended night skiing and riding until midnight, plus the Red Bull DJ Truck creating an electric atmosphere under the lights.

Splash & Stay: Bigger Savings, More Fun

Boyne Mountain has transformed its Splash & Stay offering with massive new savings for lodging guests. Avalanche Bay Indoor Waterpark day passes now start at just $30 for overnight guests – up to 45% off regular rates – with second-day passes available for only $20 more. It's the ultimate combination pairing fun on the slopes with fun in the waterpark, the perfect way to spend a winter day.

More Snowmaking Power Where It Counts

Nine new Super PoleCat guns will blanket the tops of Meadows and Disciples this winter, while a new PistenBully 400 winch cat with SnowSat joins the grooming fleet. Building on last season's success when additional snowmaking created the legendary Victor Glacier that kept turns going well into spring, these infrastructure improvements ensure consistently top-quality snow for memorable runs all season long.

Making Memories from Age Two

Boyne Mountain is making it easier than ever for the littlest mountain lovers to get their start with a new ski program designed specifically for ages 2-4. The new Small Fry Camps take place from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with lunch included and features a 50-foot covered Sunkid conveyor lift located near Helga's Haus, providing a safe, contained learning environment for toddlers. This expansion of Boyne Mountain's family-friendly programming ensures that even the resort's youngest visitors can begin their lifelong love of skiing in a supportive setting. Building a Culture of Safety

Boyne Mountain is launching slope safety initiatives for the 2025-26 season, featuring informal Ski Patrol gatherings every Saturday focused on responsibility code education and the introduction of a Safety Ambassador program. The resort, along with parent company, Boyne Resorts, has also partnered with the Snow Angel Foundation to emphasize community responsibility and foster a strong mountain safety culture.

Enhanced Northern Nights Pass Now Includes Saturdays

The Northern Nights Pass is back and better than ever - now with Saturdays included. This pass includes unlimited access to illuminated runs from 5-9pm Wednesday through Saturday, plus additional dates throughout the season. Whether squeezing in après-work laps or making Saturday night a new tradition, this pass delivers serious value. Limited blackout dates apply: December 25-31, 2025; January 17-18, and February 14-15, 2026. Explore Boyne Mountain's full line-up of season pass options at boynemountain.com/season-passes.
