Break 15 min.

Concurrent Workshops 1:45 p.m. – 3:15 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

1:45 – 3:15 p.m. Workshops (1.5 hours)

Workshop 1: Chief Investigator Ted Mahony & Special Investigator Nicholas Velez, Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission

Trade Practice & Tied-House/Unlawful Interstate & DtC Investigations

Provide an overview of recent Trade Practice and Industry level investigations conducted by Massachusetts Investigators. These cases will cover straw distribution companies utilized to circumvent the Three-Tier System and unlawful inducements. Investigators will cover these cases from beginning to end; providing investigative advice and guidance based on their experiences through the investigative process.

Provide an overview of the development of the Massachusetts ABCC Unlawful Interstate and DtC Investigation Unit, as well as investigative procedures and practices that have proven successful. The DtC portion will cover current DtC statutes, the unlawful methods being used to circumvent them, and guidance toward uncovering them. The Unlawful Interstate portion of the session will cover supply chain participants, common carriers, fulfillment centers and third-party platforms; the methods they are utilizing to circumvent state liquor laws and recent enforcement efforts that have proven successful to combat such unlawful sale and delivery.

Workshop 2: TBD

Workshop 3: Israel Morrow, Assistant Director for Operations, North Carolina Department of Public Safety, Alcohol Law Enforcement Division, NLLEA Secretary/Treasurer

Investigation of Non-Licensed Establishments

An ALE agent must be well verse in ABC licensed establishments and those establishments that are selling alcoholic beverages illegally. Agents must know how to recognize these types of establishments and how to properly conduct an investigation dealing with an illegal outlet to ensure the successful prosecution of the case.

Illegal outlets pose a nuisance to the communities in which they are operated and are located all over North Carolina from big cities to small towns. They may be in a private residence, on a college campus, in clubs or businesses from one end of the state to the other. Agents will encounter all types of illegal outlets during their career including shot houses, clubs and illegal ownerships. This will require the agent to be prepared with the knowledge and investigative techniques to successfully build a case against those operating the illegal outlets.

Workshop 4: Melissa Rooney Yeager, Intelligence Analyst, Pennsylvania State Police, Pennsylvania Criminal Intelligence Center (PACIC), Bureau of Criminal Investigation

Outlaw Motorcycle Gangs

This course of instruction will provide the attendees with an overview of Outlaw Motorcycle Gangs. Topics covered will include the history of Outlaw Motorcycle Gangs, current trends and criminal activity, methods for identifying members, and officer safety concerns.

Break 15min.

3:30 - 5:00 p.m. Workshops (1.5 hours)

Workshop 1: Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB)

Workshop 2: North Carolina S.A.V.E Program-Stop Alcohol Violence through Education

Workshop 3: Leo V. Sokoloski, Director – Chief of Police, Bloomsburg University Police Department

From Streets to Peaks, Value of the Town and Gown Relationship

College towns bring culture, athletics, and the vibrance of young men and women seeking to obtain their degrees. In addition to these cultural mosaics, college towns have plenty of jobs for students at unique bookstores, coffee, pizza & sub shops and there tends to be a stronger sense of community. College towns tend to be affordable with healthy economies and a well-educated population. As you know, it takes a village to manage a college town where many young college-age students reside in off-campus housing, fraternity and sorority houses. Unfortunately, many times, the lifestyles of students clash with local residents who are awoken by late night noise, music, parties and disruptive conduct. Balancing public safety, police, fire & code and keeping students safe in today's police climate while allowing students to be students will always be viewed by many as police being heavy handed. Managing good community policing tactics and working together with others may make your job less complicated.

Workshop 4: Maria Julian, MPA Executive Director & Jackie Boards, Project Director, Counter Tools

Alcohol Outlet Density: Why it Matters and How to Track it

Greater availability of alcohol is associated with a number of negative outcomes, including increased crime rates, traffic crashes, violence, and property damage. An overconcentration of outlets that sell alcohol, or a high alcohol outlet density, can further amplify these public health and safety issues. Research suggests that high alcohol outlet density also corresponds with higher levels of excessive drinking, including among youth.

Using GIS mapping is a powerful way to assess and monitor alcohol outlet locations. Mapping can also guide the development of enforcement strategies at the state or local level. This session will equip you with an understanding of how alcohol outlet density impacts the health and safety of your communities. You'll also walk away with greater awareness of how this data can support licensing goals and offer a fuller picture of the impact of alcohol outlets on our communities.

Dinner - 6:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. – President's Reception – Dinner being served at 6pm - Awards Ceremony 7pm

Tuesday, September 27, 2022 (Day Two)

8:00 – 9:00 a.m. Breakfast & Registration

9:00 –10:30 a.m. General Session –Orlando Pulse Night Club Attack Debriefing

As cities and communities are experiencing a growing pattern of violence in and around licensed alcohol establishments Alcohol Law Enforcement Agents and Officers need to be able to proactively engage in training and education from other Law Enforcement that have experienced and responded to these incidents. Hear from Lt. Mongelluzzo and Officer Bowhay of the Orlando Police Department as they provide a debrief of the 2016 Pulse nightclub shooting

10:45-12:00 a.m. General Session - Fusion Center Capabilities & Case Support

Use of Force

Workshop 2: Meredith “Scottie” Shoaf, Assistant Special Agent in Charge of the Nuisance Abatement Team, North Carolina Department of Public Safety/Alcohol Law Enforcement Division

North Carolina Nuisance Abatement Team

During this training class a foundational knowledge of Chapter 19, North Carolina Nuisance Abatement Laws, will be provided to other agencies. Each state has different laws and this class will provide a ground work to take back to your local politicians to discuss law changes and how it can assist your local agencies with violent properties and nuisance locations. You will have the resources and knowledge regarding nuisance laws and how these are utilized when traditional law enforcement tools to handle community problems have failed. We will discuss the penalties North Carolina law sets out including fines, forfeitures, perpetual restrictive covenants on property (including the complete loss or use of the property) and jail time for failing to comply with judgments. These cases are brought on behalf of the State of North Carolina, the civil action targets property used for specified illegal purposes. As defined in statute, nuisance activities include prostitution, gambling, illegal possession or sale of drugs or alcoholic beverages, and repeated acts which create a breach of the peace. We will discuss NC Alcohol Law Enforcements involvement from the team’s inception in 2016, they serve as the lead investigative agency for Nuisance Abatement actions. This team has accepted hundreds of requests from local law enforcement agencies to find permanent solutions to rid communities of nuisance properties, nightclubs, violent outlets, hotels and illegal bars.

Workshop 3: Craig B. Amos, DRE # 17569 Pennsylvania DUI Association Regional DUI Program Administrator PennDOT Region 5, Lieutenant Daniel
Mosura, Jr., District Office Commander - Pittsburgh Pennsylvania State
Police, Bureau of Liquor Control Enforcement & Nathan Boob, Traffic
Safety Resource Prosecutor, Pennsylvania District Attorneys

You have a Card, Now What-Medical Marijuana

Pennsylvania enacted a medical marijuana law in 2016 providing for need in training for law enforcement. Three Pennsylvania entities joined together to provide technical assistance for PA Liquor Control Enforcement agents and address components of the law. This session will provide insight to the need for law enforcement agents to receive training specific to the medical marijuana laws in their state. Additionally, this session will focus on creative strategies, utilizing existing partnerships to provide support and resources for agents that work with liquor establishments.

Workshop 4: Barbara Zortman, Director Center for Traffic Safety

Generational Effects of Alcohol in America

The key to a successful outcome during any encounter is knowing who your audience is. Understanding the unique structure of each generation currently living and working in America today is important to be effective in law enforcement. In order to do your job, from communicating to placing an individual in custody, being familiar with these differences could have an impact on the outcome. How you approach the impaired “old-timer” (Silent) cannot be the same as how you would today’s college student (Gen Z); the skill set you used to impact teens just 10 years ago (Millennial) is not going to work with the next set (Alpha). Knowing what is important and how each generation views and reacts to situations will help anticipate problems, and will inevitably increase the potential for a more successful outcome for everyone involved.

Break 15 min.

3:30 – 5:00 p.m. Workshops (1.5 hours)

Workshop 1: Tim Poulin, Deputy Director, Maine Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages and Lottery Operations, Department of Administrative and Financial Services & Cassandra Tourre, Director of Public Policy, National Alcohol Beverage Control Association (NABCA)

Enforcement Capacity Resources: How does your state stack up?

Through the National Alcohol Beverage Control Association’s Awards Program, the Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages and Lottery Organization (BABLO) secured funding to conduct a compliance and resource capacity assessment in 2022. In recent years, alcohol licensing has increased, and alcohol enforcement responsibilities have been decentralized putting more demands on BABLO’s regulatory resources. To better understand its internal capacity in comparison to other states, BABLO sought the expertise of an alcohol researcher to evaluate alcohol enforcement and regulatory capacity and resources across the United States. This assessment is the first systematic measurement of regulatory and enforcement capacity. It will provide valuable insights for all states looking to determine how their resources to provide effective customer service to licensees and adequate protections to the public compared to other states. Session attendees will review the assessment findings, discuss their implications and explore how to use the findings in their own state

Workshop 2: Major Kevin Jones, Deputy Chief, Delaware Division of Alcohol and Tobacco Enforcement

Duty to Intervene-Law Enforcement Suicide

Duty to intervene policies are being enacted nationwide to counter excessive force claims. Equally as important is a duty to intervene to counter officers experiencing a mental health crisis, i.e. stress and depression, which none of us are immune to, and suicide. The stigma attached to treatment for a mental health crisis in law enforcement must end. This workshop covers duty to intervene policies and profiles several real-life examples of officers in crisis who took the “easy” way out whereby a simple intervening gesture may have saved their life.

Workshop 3: Douglas E. Jackson, Intelligence Analyst, Pennsylvania State Police, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Pennsylvania Criminal Intelligence Center (PACIC)

Racially Motivated Violent Extremism

This course of instruction will provide attendees with the knowledge to assist in identifying Racially Motivated Violent Extremists (RMVES) to include white supremacists and black separatists. Attendees will become familiar with the tactics, trends, and indicators associated with RMVEs and the threats they pose toward law enforcement and the community.

Workshop 4: Sarah Jones, GISP GIS Specialist, Senior & Lieutenant Darick Wilson
 ALEA Alcohol Coordinator

GIS Solutions for Alcohol Enforcement

At the beginning of Fiscal Year 2020, the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA) State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) successfully implemented a mobile GIS tool for alcohol and tobacco minor compliance enforcement operations. This innovative, easy to use, and convenient tool enables the agent in the field to be more efficient and effective during all phases of the compliance detail. The success of this tool led to the incorporation of GIS in other workflows such as investigating alcohol and tobacco related complaints, maintaining training and firearms records for certification of sworn personnel, and managing department resources. This presentation will discuss the details of each of these GIS solutions and how they positively impact the daily operations of alcohol law enforcement in Alabama. It will also cover how the foundation of this system can be quickly modified to meet unforeseen needs and changes such as enforcement in a COVID world.

Wednesday, September 28, 2022 (Day Three)

8:00 – 9:00 a.m. Breakfast

9:00 – 10:15 a.m. Rhonda Hendrickson, MSL, Vice President of Programs, YWCA Greater Harrisburg & Steven Turner, Esquire Anti-Trafficking Consultant, Trainer and Advocate

General Session- “Street Stories- The Intersection of Human Trafficking, Alcohol and Drug Use and Abuse”

Human trafficking hides in plain sight. This workshop will explore the intersection of drugs and alcohol with human trafficking. Alcohol and drugs are frequently used by traffickers to recruit and retain victims and many trafficking victims have alcohol and drug dependency issues as a result of the horrific trauma they survive. Using case studies from victims served in the YWCA’s PAATH15 trafficking shelter recovery program, presenters will illustrate the intersection of alcohol and drug use and abuse; the role that bars and restaurants play in the facilitation of trafficking; and the signs, symptoms and indicators for trafficking victims and perpetrators recruitment tactics. This workshop will include 75 minutes of content and 15 minutes for Q and A and technical assistance requests.

10:30-noon Alcohol Law Enforcement (ALE) Panel – NLLEA Board and Past Presidents

Speakers

Allison Harnden, Nighttime Economy Manager, City of Pittsburgh

Since 1996, Allison Harnden has provided consultation services to assist 50 cities in 23 states to plan, develop, manage and police their nighttime economies. In her current role with Pittsburgh's Office of Nighttime Economy, she works to improve life at night in neighborhoods citywide and implements strategies that nurture night commerce, address nightlife-related impacts and assist government to adapt to a city that operates at night.

Harnden serves as co-chair of Responsible Hospitality Institute and on the executive board of the newly formed Nighttime Economy Culture and Policy Alliance. She has co-authored Planning, Managing and Policing Hospitality Zones: A Practical Guide and co-wrote a chapter on Designing Nightlife for Women in David Feehan's book, Design Downtowns for Women; Men will Follow.

Councilman Bruce A. Kraus, Pittsburgh City Council

Councilman Bruce A. Kraus, born and raised in the South Side, began serving as a member of Pittsburgh City Council on January 7th, 2008. Bruce proudly represents Pittsburgh's 3rd Council District while rounding out his duties as City Council President.

As Pittsburgh's first openly gay elected official, Bruce has been a strong proponent of civil rights issues, including the Allegheny County Human Relations Commission – which serves to combat discrimination in housing, public accommodation, and employment – and the City's first Domestic Partner Registry.

As a Councilman, Bruce has sponsored a diverse and comprehensive package of legislation over the years. In response to concerns of his constituents, Councilman Kraus introduced the Responsible Hospitality Institute's Sociable City Plan, which has worked to develop a comprehensive strategy to improve night life throughout Pittsburgh with an emphasis on public safety and transportation. Additionally, he sponsored the City's Social Host Ordinance, tightening measures to prevent underage parties and protect students and residents from unsafe conditions often created by these parties.

Council President Bruce Kraus is dedicated to fighting for the equal rights and well-being of all citizens of Pittsburgh. A truly community-focused public official, Bruce constantly strives to get to know the personal stories of the residents he represents. He is constantly working towards, in his words, "A city where all people are invited to our great common table, to share in an equal voice and have every opportunity to participate in the stewardship of their futures."

Frederick Mahony, Chief Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission

Frederick Mahony has served as Chief of the Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission since 2001. In 2004 he was named the National Liquor Law Enforcement Association (NLLEA) Agent of the Year for his leadership in ensuring effective liquor law enforcement in Massachusetts and in 2008 the Massachusetts ABCC was recognized as the NLLEA Agency of the Year for its innovative enforcement programs. Chief Mahony has developed strong data driven enforcement programs toward the prevention of impaired driving and underage drinking for both Massachusetts ABCC and the NLLEA. In 2012, Chief Mahony testified before the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) on the role that alcohol law enforcement officers play in preventing impaired driving. He indicated that using “place of last drink” (POLD) data to drive enforcement action led to a reduction in impaired driving arrests associated with establishments that were targeted for intervention, information the NTSB has since included in their recommendations. Chief Mahony served as President of the NLLEA in 2008-2009 and again in 2012-2013.

Nicholas Velez, Investigator Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission

Nicholas Velez has worked as an Investigator with the Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission since 2012 and worked as an intern in the summer of 2007. He graduated with a Bachelor of science in Criminal Justice from Westfield State University in Massachusetts. Prior to joining the Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission, he worked as a Private Investigator. He has conducted several investigations into trade practices/ pricing in the wholesaler and supplier tier. He is one of the Field Training Officers for new hires for the agency. He is a current member of the Massachusetts Police Association and member of the Southeastern Massachusetts Detective Association.

Israel Morrow, Assistant Director for Operations, North Carolina Department of Public Safety, Alcohol Law Enforcement Division, NLLEA Secretary/Treasurer

Assistant Director Morrow began his career with the North Carolina Alcohol Law Enforcement Division in January 2005. As a Special Agent, AD Morrow was assigned to the Southeast Raleigh Redevelopment Area where he focused on violent crimes occurring at or around ABC-licensed establishments. In 2010, AD Morrow was assigned to the Raleigh/Durham FBI Safe Streets Task Force. Since that time, AD Morrow has served as both an Assistant Special Agent in Charge and a Special Agent in Charge, along with being a Special Response Team Leader. In February 2020, he was named Assistant Director for Operations, where he oversees eight district offices statewide as well as the Gaming Section,

K-9 Program, Technical Surveillance Unit and the Special Response Team. AD Morrow has fifteen years of experience working illegal outlet investigations, illegal ownership investigations, Source Investigations, Summary Suspensions and unsuitable to hold ABC permits at problematic locations. AD Morrow received his undergraduate degree in Business Administration from Catawba College and his master's degree from Pfeiffer University in Business Administration with a concentration in Strategic Leadership. He received his Advanced Law Enforcement Certificate in 2012, and is a graduate of the West Point Leadership Academy and the FBI-LEEDA Executive Leadership Program.

Tim Poulin, Deputy Director, Maine Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages and Lottery Operations, Department of Administrative and Financial Services

Tim is the Deputy Director for the Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages and Lottery Operations within the Department of Administrative and Financial Services for the State of Maine. He has worked in the Bureau for over 12 years and in State Government for 35 years. Tim earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in History and Political Science from the University of Southern Maine.

Over the last few years, Tim focused his work on the day to day operations of the State's premier business – Maine Spirits. Beginning in July 2013, Tim was instrumental in re-integrating liquor licensing and enforcement back into the Bureau and starting the process to re-engineer the workflow of this important program area. Under Tim's leadership since then, the Division of Liquor Licensing and Enforcement has made important strides in re-engineering its work with its licensee community. But much of what needs to be done needs a better infrastructure to finish this re-engineering. Tim has worked over the last months to develop and release a robust RFP to move the Division "out of the dark ages" and into the digital work and the RFP is on the cusp of being released. Maine Spirits business has seen exceptional growth under Tim's leadership and vision for the business model started in July 2014.
