

Ascent Rural Pilot

Presented by the U.S. Small Business Administration

The Ascent Pilot is the first of its kind NO COST program that will be a combination of online, self-guided learning using the Ascent platform and group virtual sessions using the Teams platform. Ascent's group virtual sessions will provide a forum where program participants will meet with other women who have been selected for the Ascent cohort with representation from across the nation. During the Ascent Pilot Program, the virtual sessions will be presented in an interactive workshop format where subject matter experts in business, finance and contracting will discuss the Ascent modules, as well as, share information that small business owners need to know to start, grow and succeed. To learn more about the Ascent Pilot, please register using the link below and join us for an informational session.
