My name is Jacquelyn D. Stewart and this is my story:

My first battle with breast cancer was when my youngest was turning 3. His godparents put together a quick birthday party so I had time to deal with the upcoming surgery and recovery. The second battle was when my daughter was planning her wedding which turned out to be three days before my surgery.

My family means everything to me and both times I was fighting breast cancer was at very SPECIAL occasions in my children's lives. Because of everyone pulling together to get things done to make it all happen, that gave me more courage and inspiration to beat this battle. This battle showed me that because family is so important to me that God painted a picture of Unity just for me and gave me a reason to be thankful. Watching people coming together to celebrate while encouraging me to put on my boxing gloves and fight for my life gave me the strength to CELEBRATE and show cancer that I CAN SURVIVE!!!!

Because of my village at church, work, and family, I know that I will always have a team fighting with me!!! Thank you ALL for being a part of MY army.
