Grants Awarded to the Foundation Provides Critical Support to the Community

In addition to all of the support the Brookland Foundation receives each year from its donors and supporters, the foundation is also awarded grants to help achieve its mission. One of the critical grants receive this year was the Dominion Energy Charitable Foundation grant for our Project Open Arms initiative. With this $10,000 grant, the Brookland Foundation has been able to assist several families and individuals with rental assistance, mortgage assistance, water assistance, hotel vouchers, gift cards (for food and gas), and purchases of air conditioner units.

The assistance we are able to provide with this grant has been very emotional for several people. One young lady whom we assisted was brought to tears when she was told that we could help her. She was just discharged from the hospital after experiencing complication with her heart. She is a home healthcare worker and was still attempting to work even while sick. She was in desperate need for rental assistance. This grant enabled us to assist her in this critical time of need.

In addition, the Brookland Foundation has also received this year The Emory University Rollins School of Public Health COMPASS Coordinating Center Core Grant for Technology ($4,500), the Core Grant for Staff Continuing Education ($3,000) and the Core Grant for Community Convening Support.

Please visit our website (www.BrooklandFoundation.org) and Facebook page to see our upcoming activities and events.

Thank You to Our Donors, Supporters, & Volunteers

Thank you for the support in helping us achieve our mission.

The Brookland Foundation receives multiple calls per day to support the community (Richland, Lexington, Fairfield, Orangeburg, Colleton, Hampton, etc. Counties) by providing families and individuals with emergency bill payment assistance, rental assistance, transportation needs, and hotel/emergency shelter assistance to name a few.

Philanthropist: Give, Support, and Volunteer

Anyone can be a Philanthropist

A philanthropist is a person who seeks to promote the welfare of others, often, but not always, with donations of time, resources, or money. Based on this information, you may already be a philanthropist.

In 2018, we named our first Philanthropist of the Year. This year, the race is on for our 2019 Philanthropist of the Year. Whether you donate, volunteer, or support an event, you make a big impact.

Rev. Charles Cherry is a philanthropist in the community and a committed supporter of the Brookland Foundation. As part of the Brookland Foundation's 25th Anniversary, the foundation's Board Members and Program Directors were asked to donate $10.00 for each year the foundation had been in existence. As part of Midlands Gives (on giving day), Juanita Farmer's goal was to obtain 5 donors to match her donation gift. When she reached out to Rev. Cherry with this request, he agreed without any hesitation.

In addition to being a strong supporter of the foundation, he also supports many other causes. For example, for his birthday every year in December, he celebrates by hosting an event to give back to others. During his birthday celebration at Ladson Presbyterian Church, he encourages other to bring socks, hats, blankets, coats, gloves, and toiletries for the homeless. Additionally, he travels to the Fish Hole in Eastover to buy fish and chicken, which is served along with grits and all the trimmings. The Brookland Foundation looks forward to supporting and celebrating this event with him each year. We all salute Rev. Charles Cherry as our highlighted philanthropist in this quarter's newsletter.
