

Local FFA chapter to compete nationally in career development event

INDIANAPOLIS (Wednesday, August 3, 2016/National FFA Organization.) – A local FFA chapter recently was selected to compete for national recognition in an FFA Career Development Event at the 89th National FFA Convention & Expo.

The Badger HS FFA Chapter from Lake Geneva will send members to Indianapolis as they vie for national honors in the area of Prepared Public Speaking. National support for the Prepared Public Speaking CDE is provided by Monsanto. FFA members who will represent the chapter in the event include Braden Kundert. The chapter advisor is Larry Plapp.

Prepared public speaking is one of 24 national CDE areas, covering job skills in everything from communications to mechanics. Prepared public speaking allows members to select an agriculture-related topic that interests them, research that topic and put together a creative, informative and interesting speech. Speakers are evaluated on the speech's content and composition, along with delivery and production. National participants will advance through preliminary and semifinal rounds, with the top four speakers competing in the final round of the national event. CDEs help students develop the abilities to think critically, communicate clearly and perform effectively in a competitive job market.

About National FFA Organization The National FFA Organization is a national youth organization of 629,367 student members as part of 7,757 local FFA chapters in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The FFA mission is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education. The National FFA Organization operates under a federal charter granted by the 81st United States Congress and it is an integral part of public instruction in agriculture. The U.S. Department of Education provides leadership and helps set direction for FFA as a service to state and local agricultural education programs. For more, visit the National FFA Organization online at FFA.org, on Facebook, Twitter and the official National FFA Organization blog. About National FFA Foundation The National FFA Foundation builds partnerships with industry, education, government, other foundations and individuals to secure financial resources that recognize FFA member achievements, develop student leaders and support the future of agricultural education. Governed by a 19-member board of trustees comprised of educators, business leaders, individual donors and FFA alumni, the foundation is a separately-registered nonprofit organization. About 82 percent of every dollar received by the foundation supports FFA members and agricultural education opportunities. For more, visit FFA.org/Give.
