May 17th Meeting of Les Saints du Vin 4 PM

May is one of the months that we shift the wine tasting away from the second Sunday. This time it's to avoid Mother's Day. Lori Moore and Elaine Keys will be hosting and they have provided the write up below. Lori's idea allows you to show your own personal theme, it should be fun, hope to see you there.

I also want to remind everyone about the Calvert Arts Festival being hosted by All Saints this coming Saturday from 10:00 - 5:00. Come out and enjoy the day, with free admission for music, artisans and vendors, and an opportunity to buy a Mother's day gift.

The May Les Saints du Vin wine tasting is being hosted by Lori Moore and Elaine Keyes. The event will be held at 4:00 pm on Sunday, May 17th at 1761 Lottie Fowler Road, Prince Frederick.

This month's main theme is "Please drink my wine!" I'm pulling wines of which I have at least two bottles. :-) I had already selected the bottles right before we had to cancel our March tasting, and no other theme emerged after looking at the bottles. So I'm adding one - Celebrate Your Fandom!

What does Fandom mean? According to the Google dictionary:

The state or condition of being a fan of someone or something. The fans of a particular person, team, fictional series, etc. regarded collectively as a community or subculture.

Your fandom could be a tv series, movie, sports team, hobby - whatever you are a major fan of! Come ready to share a little tidbit about something you love. If you have something to wear that speaks to your fandom, wear it if you have it. We can have some fun trying to guess before you share. :-)

Please RSVP if you plan to attend by replying to joverstrom01@gmail.com.
