LIFESAVING MEDAL FOR SERVICE AWARD CITATION

NOVEMBER 9, 2018 | ALBERTA LEGISLATURE | EDMONTON, AB

Bruce Hogle

EDMONTON, ALBERTA – NOVEMBER 9, 2018

THE LIFESAVING MEDAL FOR SERVICE recognizes Lifesaving Society Instructors and Volunteers for their commitment and their contribution to our humanitarian drowning prevention mission. It is through this dedicated effort that the Lifesaving Society's programs and services reach the community.

Bruce Hogle retired in March 2018 from his tenure as Governor of the Lifesaving Society, Alberta and Northwest Territories Branch after 23 years of dedicated service.

Bruce provided outstanding service and made extraordinary contributions to the Lifesaving Society. His volunteer service and support to the staff and volunteers, was of tremendous value. He has provided valuable leadership, and has always been a great advocate and champion for our humanitarian mandate to prevent drowning and water-related injury. His efforts and commitment significantly influenced the growth and sustainability of the Society, leaving a lasting legacy.

Bruce chaired the nominations service unit for many years and was instrumental in recruiting and mentoring volunteers for the succession of the Society's Board of Directors. He is always willing and has never missed an opportunity to be available to attend, speak and present at our many events and functions. Such events include our lifesaving sport championships, casino fundraiser, annual general meeting and branch recognition awards, and the Annual Investiture of Lifesaving Honours.

Bruce has given countless hours of his time not only to the Lifesaving Society but to many other non-profit organizations. For this work he has received countless honours including the Order of Canada. He has a true volunteer spirit and lives his life with integrity and with the highest of discipline and dignity. He has remarkable energy, strength of character and a tireless desire to be of service to others.

We are truly grateful for Bruce's remarkable dedication and support to the Lifesaving Society.

For his outstanding dedication, commitment and contributions to the Society, Bruce Hogle is awarded the Lifesaving Medal for Service.
