PRINCETON • NEW JERSEY

The Jewish Center Presents
Jewish Music: Across the Globe and Through the Generations
With Cantor Jeff Warschauer

Melodies and Themes of The High Holidays

An Online Workshop with Bob Lebeau
Wednesday, September 16 at 7pm

How can the melodies of the High Holidays stimulate personal reflection, communal engagement, and meaningful change even when we are apart this year? In this workshop, Bob will present familiar and perhaps less familiar melodies that he has used over the years to lead participatory and engaging services on the High Holidays. He will explore how the music and themes of the High Holiday season intersect in the prayers we recite and how routine prayer can promote both spontaneous personal resonance and public participation. Bob will share links to melodies participants can practice on their own after the workshop.

Bob Lebeau is a TJC congregant who has taught in a variety of programs at the Jewish Center and is an active participant in reading Torah and leading services, including during the High Holidays at Riverside School. In his professional life, he directs two educational programs at Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School.
