NEWS FROM CRAWL

Hello World! Community Rural Arts Work League of Bamberg County, CRAWL is going back to school. Our organization is partnered with Denmark Technical College. We are mutual in our desire to help the community. Education is the key.

One educator, Dixie Goswami, has given her love for life and her powerful leadership to all. She has a love for literature and is a voracious reader. She works with many of our friends and is in charge of the Write to Change Foundation. Write to Change is the sponsor for this page. CRAWL thanks them for underwriting it.

CRAWL celebrates Dixie Goswami on turning 89 on July 27th. Here is a matching puzzle that represents what we think of when we think of Dixie Goswami.

- |               |  |
|---------------|--|
| 1. Passionate | A. Always Supportive   |
| 2. Equity     | B. Unafraid to speak truth to power                              |
| 3. Funny      | C. Stands strong for what she believes                           |
| 4. Caring     | D. Generous to worthy causes                                     |
| 5. Sharing    | E. Believes in fairness and equality                             |
| 6. Fighting   | F. Loves to laugh with her grands and great-grands               |
| 7. Justice    | G. Believes all should be treated with respect and inclusiveness |

Dixie Goswami lives in Clemson, SC. She is a proud and loving mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. She has educated persons across the United States, regardless of color, race, creed, or any other artificial barrier that most people use to separate us. She is a cherished member of the Breadloaf community and works tirelessly to use arts and culture for the good of humankind and this planet Earth. Dixie Goswami exhibits all of the things found in the matching puzzle, above. CRAWL celebrates her independence of spirit to go the extra mile for justice, truth, education, inclusiveness, and youth.
