Care House of Macomb County Child Advocacy Center

Celebrating 30 Years of Making a Difference

LET IT BE KNOWN that with deep appreciation and admiration, we honor Care House of Macomb County Child Advocacy Center as it celebrates 30 years of dedicated service to children and families throughout Macomb County.

As an accredited member of the National Children's Alliance since its founding in 1996, Care House has been a cornerstone of hope, healing, and advocacy for children impacted by abuse. For three decades, Care House has provided a safe place where children can have their voices heard while minimizing the trauma that can accompany the process of seeking justice.

Since 1996, Care House has coordinated more than 13,000 forensic interviews, bringing together law enforcement, child protective services, and the Macomb County Prosecutor's Office so children do not have to tell their stories repeatedly. Through this collaborative approach, Care House has helped ensure children and families receive the support they need while allowing those entrusted with protecting them to stand together, shoulder to shoulder, providing a pathway for justice.

Care House provides families with vital advocacy services, trauma-informed therapy, access to medical examinations, and connections to other community resources, at no cost to referred families. As the designated Local Council for Children Trust Michigan, Care House also plays an important role in child abuse prevention education and community training.

For 30 years, Care House has demonstrated what is possible when dedicated professionals and community partners come together with one shared purpose: protecting children and helping families heal. Its trusted partnerships with law enforcement, child protective services, prosecutors, medical professionals, and community organizations have created a lasting impact for thousands of children and families across Macomb County.

As Care House celebrates this remarkable milestone, we recognize and commend the countless advocates, professionals, volunteers, community partners, and supporters who have helped build its legacy. For three decades, Care House has been a voice for children, a source of strength for families, and an essential partner in our shared commitment to creating a safer and healthier community for every child.

IN SPECIAL TRIBUTE, we sign and dedicate this document to commemorate 30 years of service and dedication by Care House of Macomb County Child Advocacy Center. We extend our heartfelt congratulations on this extraordinary milestone and sincerely appreciate the lasting difference Care House continues to make in the lives of children and families throughout Macomb County.
